BACTERIOLOGIST IS APPOINTED BY BOARD

Supervisors in Special Session Name Dr. Harold L. VanWinkle for the Post at $2,000—Winston Claim is Settled and Highway Matters are Approved.

The board of supervisors held a special meeting at the court house Tuesday evening, at which time provision was made for re-opening the Ulster county bacteriological laboratory by the appointment of Dr. Harold Lull Van Winkle as bacteriologist at a salary of $2,000 a year. Several road matters of importance also were acted on by the board.

Crime Bill Settled.

The special committee consisting of Supervisors Saxe, Rifenbary and Merriew, appointed some time ago to investigate the matter of the bill for expenses incurred on behalf of the city of New York by the county in criminal cases which Winston & Company, who pay the bill, had complained of as being excessive, reported that it had been held by the supreme court that the charges in the case of The People against Samuel Ford were not legal charges against the city of New York, and had disallowed the charges in several other cases, the total expenses of which amounted to $1,165.79. The difference of $159.75 claimed by Winston & Company in the item for board of prisoners was partly chargeable against Winston Company and in addition the committee had found that Winston & Company were chargeable for board of prisoners at the Albany penitentiary amounting to $571.50. The committee had agreed with Winston & Company to settle the claim for $2,000 subject to the approval of the board that amount being $106 less than the possible amount of the county's claim assuming that all the county's contentions are correct, and $150 in excess of the amount admitted by Winston & Company.

On motion of Supervisor Saxe, the report was adopted.

Extra Road Appropriation Necessary.

A communication from the state highway department called attention to extra rock excavation and engineering charges on the Milton Landing-Milton highway amounting to $1,500, of which the state will pay 65 per cent amounting to $975 and the county will be required to pay 35 per cent amounting to $525.

On motion of Supervisor Woolsey, the plans and estimates for the road work were approved and the county treasurer directed to provide for the county's share of the cost of the additional work.

Dr. Van Winkle Bacteriologist.

A communication from the Ulster County Medical Society stated that Dr. Harold Lull Van Winkle was willing to accept the proposition of the board for appointment as county bacteriologist at a salary of $2,000 a year. The communication was filed.

Supervisors Schermerhorn, Kolts and Lyon, constituting the committee on county laboratory and tuberculosis hospital, offered a resolution appointing Dr. Van Winkle at the salary stated, he to receive also all fees for work, including expenses exclusive of light, heat, telephone and permanent equipment, and to make no charge for work done at the request of any overseer of the poor the appointment to take effect May 15th.

Dr. A. A. Stern, E. E. Norwood and Frank Keator of the Ulster County Medical Society were present and on motion of Supervisor Kolts the privilege of the floor was extended to them.

Dr. Stern said that all the supervisors were aware of the necessity for the laboratory and were acquainted with the work done there. Members of the medical profession were being taken up rapidly by the government for army service. Dr. Van Winkle had an opportunity of accepting government work as a bacteriologist but was willing to accept the position of county bacteriologist and had promised to hold his decision in regard to government service pending the action of the board of supervisors. If the opportunity of securing a competent bacteriologist was lost now, the county might be compelled to wait a long time before procuring a bacteriologist. This seemed to be the opportune time for the county.

The resolution appointing Dr. Van Winkle was unanimously adopted and on behalf of the medical profession of the county Dr. Stern thanked the board. On motion of Supervisor Kolts, the clerk was directed to notify Dr. Van Winkle of his appointment.

Commission Recommends Farm Work.

A communication was received from John F. Tremain, secretary of the state prison commission, enclosing a resolution adopted by that board, recommending that boards of supervisors arrange to employ jail prisoners in the cultivation of farms and gardens. The communication and resolution were filed.

Deputy Treasurer's Bond Approved.

A bond of Deputy County Treasurer Dwight McEntee in the sum of $25,000 was presented, with Mary S. McEntee, C. E. Powell, Harry H. Fleming, J. Graham Rose, F. R. Popley, S. E. Eikmeier and Edward Coykendall as sureties. The bond was filed and on motion of Supervisor Wilkoff was approved.

West Hurley Road Plans Approved.

Supervisor Sagendorf introduced a resolution approving the plans of the state highway department for resurfacing, re-constructing and repairing the Kingston-West Hurley road, from the Kingston bridge to the Ashokan boulevard, at an estimated cost of $32,576.15, and appropriating $2,000 for the widening of the approach to the Stony Hollow viaduct over the Ulster & Delaware railroad tracks. The resolution was adopted.

Lackawack Road Change Approved.

Supervisor Catherwood introduced a resolution approving a slight change in the route of the Napanoch-Montela road at the place where the highway has been found difficult of construction by reason of the sinking due apparently to borings made by the city of New York, the changed route being for a short distance and passing around the place where the trouble has been encountered. The resolution was adopted.

On motion of Supervisor Rifenbary the board adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

GERMANS RE-TAKE AND HOLD FRESNOY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, May 9.—The German armies of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, on the Arras front, have begun a powerful drive to try to recapture Vimy Ridge from the British.

The first day's fighting resulted in the recapture of Fresnoy and Fresnoy Wood from the Canadians, but immediately the British began to bombard the Germans freshly won ground and later launched savage counter attacks against it.

Vimy Ridge is the strategic strip of high ground running south from the Lens sector to the east of Arras. It was captured by storm by the Canadians in the first rush of the new British offensive on April 9 and 10 and this success opened up the way for other British successes in the days that followed.

Vimy Ridge was a strong link in the defenses of the northern end of the Hindenburg Line and formed a natural barrier south of Lens. The first real menace to the German's grip on the rich coal fields of northern France was seen when the Canadians swept the Germans from the ridge and planted the British flag above it.

Fresnoy had been stormed by the Canadians on May 3 and ever since fierce fighting had raged there. After severe battles with infantry and artillery the Germans suddenly threw fresh troops into the fray and drove the exhausted Canadians back. But the Germans had to pay heavily for their success. In the wake of the advancing waves of field gray lay innumerable corpses, victims of the British artillery and machine guns.

Heavy bombardments continue elsewhere on the British line especially around Bullecourt.

Paris reported that the German artillery was again showing increased activity along the Alsne shellings furiously the French positions at Cerny, Hurbelise Farm and Craonne.

BEAR ATTACKS DEPRESS STOCKS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, May 9.—The criticism of the government financing now in progress was used by bear plungers as incentives for renewed attacks on various groups of stocks at the opening of the stock market today. Selling from this source caused further sharp declines in many issues, with the public utilities again under pronounced pressure. The concentrated selling of Steel Common declined 1 1/2 to 1 3/8. American Telephone and Telegraph dropped 1 1/2 to 1 1/8, and General Electric declined 2 points to 153. The railroad stocks were also unsettled by the general selling movement with Union Pacific declining one point to 131 1/2. Reading dropped 1 1/2 to 8 1/2. Utah Copper opened down 1/2 at 112 1/2. Fractional losses were sustained in other stocks. Marine Ptd., was also in supply, declining 1 1/2 to 7 1/2. There was a moderate amount of liquidation on these declines, much of it representing execution of standing selling orders on specialist's books, but a brisk demand was in evidence at the low levels, and rallies were frequent after the first few minutes.

FOOD AND FUNDS ASSURED ALLIES BY WAR MISSION

Some of the Important Accomplishments Made Public in Washington Includes Arrangements for Financing, Food Distribution and Army and Navy Cooperation.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, May 9.—The work of the Anglo-French mission to this country is completed. Only details remain to be worked out. The big problems have been solved. Already arrangements are being made for the return home of the distinguished visitors.

Among the things accomplished which may be made public are the following:

A complete comprehensive plan for financing the Entente has been arranged. Under it all of Germany's enemies will have their credit in the United States so bolstered up that an uninterrupted supply of war material and food will go forward.

Arrangements made whereby Great Britain and France will throw into the trans-Atlantic trade reserve shipping depending on the United States to make up the deficiency that is sure to come from the continued successes of the German U-boats.

Plans completed for sending American troops to France and especially for sending trained men to handle all transportation behind the lines thus solving the greatest problem affecting the British and French commanders in chief.

Plans completed for the part of the United States Navy is to play in the developments of the coming summer. In this connection it is admitted that Brazil will give great assistance by opening her harbors to American and Entente warships, by placing her chief warships under the direction of the United States and by furnishing merchant shipping for the trans-Atlantic trade.

Tentative plans made so that the United States will take over distribution of foodstuffs to the Entente.

In addition to the visit of the two commissions has done much to solidify the war sentiment in the United States. The commissioners have made it plain that there still is much to be done and that the United States will have to play a "big nation" part in the struggle.

A great deal that has been accomplished by the missions cannot be made public at this time. The plans will work out but until they have they must be concealed.

The British mission will leave the latter part of the week and will join the French mission to receive the official welcome of New York city on Friday. After that the question of returning home will be speedily settled. Meanwhile the Italian commission will come here to take up with the administration the pressing needs of Italy.

STEPS TAKEN TO SAVE WHITE PINE

Quarantine against the importation of white pine trees into the state of New York has been declared today by Conservation Commissioner George D. Pratt, as a check to the spread of the white pine blister rust.

The order takes effect immediately and is to remain in full force until further notice. Under the conservation law a violation is a misdemeanor.

In connection with the order, it was stated by Commissioner Pratt today that most vigorous steps are in preparation by the department for the elimination of the blister rust in New York. The plans mapped out include thorough scout work to locate every center of infection and the destruction of diseased trees. The blister rust spreads from pine trees to currant and gooseberry leaves, and then on to other white pine trees, and accordingly immune zones are to be established around infected areas in the white pine regions by the destruction of all wild and domestic currants and gooseberries.

In the sections of the state where the raising of currants and gooseberries is of primary importance, with pines secondary, the pines will be eliminated wherever necessary to prevent further infection. This will mean the dividing of the state into pine zones and currant and gooseberry zones, and the application of special measures to fit the conditions. No less thorough steps than these said Commissioner Pratt today, can be effective in saving our tremendously valuable white pine forests.

"Ki" Given a Chance.

William Houghtaling, better known as "Ki", was given another by Recorder Lang this morning when "Ki" explained he was on his way to visit relatives in Rhinebeck where he had been offered a job on a farm. "Ki" had only been released a day or so ago from jail and was picked up on Elmendorf street by Officer Dugan on the same old charge, plain drunk. As there is great need of help on farms the court decided to give "Ki" a chance.

ADVERTISING WAR BONDS "HAVE YOU BOUGHT A BOND?"

The above photograph shows the war advertisement on the wall of the National Bank of Commerce in New York city. It is believed this is the first time that any financial institution has used this method of announcing its war wares. The demand for war bonds is greater than even the most optimistic foresaw, and from every class of inventor there is a scramble to get aboard the financial "band wagon."

MAY WHEAT OPENS AT $3.11

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, May 9.—Exceeding all previous prices, May wheat today opened at $3.11, an advance of 11 cents over the high mark of yesterday.

All other deliveries of wheat were bid at new high levels, the September future going above $2. In Duluth May Wheat reached $3.17 at the opening of the market there today.

The bullish government crop report of yesterday was the cause of the advance. Trading in the wheat pit was extremely light, the unheard of prices having forced many traders out of the market. Prices were quoted at widely divergent prices in different parts of the trading floor at the same time, opening sales being four cents apart in different sections of the pit.

The threatened bread shortage which traders saw in the government's figures caused nearly everyone to retain whatever holdings of wheat they had obtained. Other grains made lesser advances on the strength of the record wheat prices.

After the first wild rush to buy prices slid back and in less than thirty minutes $3.08 was the highest price heard in the din of bidding.

SUSPECTS TURNED OUT TO BE HOBOES

Sheriff Examined Two Freight Train Riders at Highland—On Track of Auto Used in Rifton P. O. Robbery

Two young men thought to be connected with the Rifton postoffice robbery were arrested Monday at Highland and later let go after Sheriff Shults had made an investigation of the matter. While at work in Rifton Sheriff Shults received word that two suspicious men had boarded the way freight at Esopus station. Deputy Sheriff Smith at Highland was notified to search the train at Highland and hold the men until Sheriff Shults could make an investigation.

Upon arriving at Highland Sheriff Shults found that the two men had been riding freights from Utica and had been put off at Esopus by trainmen. They waited around Esopus station until the way freight came along and boarded that. One man was going to Newburgh while the other was on his way to join the army. Both had traveled blind bagged all the way from Utica.

After they had been given a hearing and Sheriff Shults found they were not the men wanted they were allowed to depart. Clues have been found which may lead to the apprehension of the yegs who have been active in the county for the past few days blowing up postoffices. That the men travel by automobile is a fact and the make of the car used has been discovered. The sheriff's men are on track of the men who are supposed to be professional cracksmen.

Big Raft of Piles.

The C. P. Sanderly Sons of Saugerties are preparing to raft 2,500 piles to New Jersey in a few days. The piles are now being cabled together in the Saugerties creek, and will be taken down by special tug.

HEAVY FIGHTING ON ARRAS FRONT

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, May 9.—The thunder of battle echoed all night around Fresnoy, on the Arras front, where the British, after repeated attacks succeeded in recapturing some of the ground won by the Germans in that sector yesterday.

The British war office announced today that fresh German masses, concentrating for a continuation of their drive north of Fresnoy, were dispersed by the fire of British guns. The Canadians who were driven from Fresnoy and Fresnoy Wood, by the Germans on Tuesday, returned to the attack hurling themselves furiously against the German positions.

Northeast of Hargicourt the German lines were bent back slightly by the British thrusts.

Northeast of Gavrelle the Germans made strong attacks, but were repulsed. The new British positions west of Fresnoy have been consolidated and strengthened.

There is savage fighting all along the front from a point south of Lens to the sector of Bullecourt.

FEDERAL CENSUS WILL COME FIRST

Conscription Enrollment Separate and Distinct from State Census—Ulster Men and Women are Organizing to do Their Part.

With the state military census and the federal registration for draft both coming before the people of the country at the same time there seems to be a misunderstanding which the people in charge of the two census boards have been called on to explain at least a score of times.

It should be firmly fixed upon the minds of the people that the enrollment of persons under the military law of the state has nothing to do with the federal registration for draft. The two are entirely separate and distinct, one being taken up by the federal government and the other by the state of New York.

The federal census will be taken up first and the state census will not be taken up until after the federal registration is completed. Many people have the opinion that the state and federal registration are the same, but this is not so and the two should not be confused. The federal registration will be taken up first.

The state officials are giving out but little information in regard to the state census on account of the federal census which will be taken up first. The idea from the first has been to keep the two distinct and not confuse the people.

When the federal census has been completed and the state work is taken up the Ulster county workers will be found ready. The district has been laid out and all plans made so that at the tap of the bell they will be ready for work. The women folks of the city have taken a great deal of interest in the work and promise to be of great assistance. At the meeting held in the armory Saturday, when Mr. Chandler was appointed chairman, the women organized and completed arrangements to assist in the work when the time came for their assistance.

Let everyone remember that there are two separate censuses to be taken and that the federal census will be the first.

COURT DOORWAY NOT WIDE ENOUGH

For Joseph Schultz, a Tramp—He Carried Wardrobe in His Pockets and Presented Balloon Effect—Was Discharged.

Joseph Schultz, 58 years old, a plain ordinary tramp, was arrested on Tuesday evening by Sergeant Hanley when Schultz applied for lodging for the night at the city hall. Schultz was armed with an empty beer bottle which he carried in his rear pocket. This morning Mr. Schultz was arraigned before Recorder Lang in recorder's court. When brought into court the doorway was not wide enough for Schultz and he had to wedge himself in sideways.

"What have you got in your pockets?" asked Recorder Lang sternly as he eyed Schultz.

"My wardrobe, your honor," piped up Mr. Schultz pulling several dirty shirts from each pocket to prove his statement.

Evidently Mr. Schultz carried an extensive wardrobe for both overcoat pockets were swelled out to such an extent that they gave Schultz's clothes a decided balloon like effect. Mr. Schultz explained that he was not anxious to spend any time at the county hotel and as he was harmless the court discharged him with the advice to move on out of town.

Mr. Schultz moved.

VAIL'S PROBATION WAS OF NO AVAIL

Fred Vail, 33 years old, of East Strand, was arrested by Officer P. J. White on Tuesday evening on a warrant sworn out by Vail's wife charging him with disorderly conduct. Mr. Vail, it will be remembered, was sentenced to the county hotel for three months a short time ago, but on the plea of his wife Recorder Lang decided to give Vail a chance and released him after he had spent but a short time in jail. Mr. Vail has been out of jail about a week and celebrated the event Tuesday by getting drunk. This led his wife, who is in delicate health, to have him arrested again. This morning Mr. Vail pleaded hard for another chance, but the court reminded him he had had his chance and sent him back to the county hotel to complete the three months sentence.

NO DOUBT ABOUT MIDDLE WEST IN MINDS OF FRENCH

Alleged Pacifist Section of Country Will Give Its Last Dollar And Its Last Man to Crush Prussianism—Marshal Joffre Delighted at Enthusiasm.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Enroute With the French Commission, May 9.—The great peaceful middle west is squarely behind the United States in the war with Germany. It will give its last man, its last dollar and last bushel of grain to see Prussianism crushed and the world made safe for democracy.

Members of the French war mission, long schooled in the art of interpreting the public temper, were very positive of the purpose of the middle west as they neared the Atlantic seaboard again today.

Five days spent in the great stretch between the Alleghenies and the Mississippi river, five days filled with enthusiastic welcomes, demonstrations and patriotic fervor and good will for France, brought forth the most delightful expressions from both Marshal Joffre and M. Viviani. Marshal Joffre said:

"I am a soldier of a few words, but even the most taciturn must speak when greeted with such sights as we experienced in the middle west. Absolut unanimous enthusiasm manifested everywhere shows the people of the United States realize fully the immensity of the task before them and they are preparing for it in the same earnest spirit early in the war as was shown by the citizens of France, whom I know so well."

"On my return to France I not only will carry the most pleasant memories and encouraging signs everywhere, but assurance for soldiers of the Allies that cannot but help to raise their spirits."

"They shall know not only that America has pledged her vast resources to our cause, but the Americans are with them in spirit as well."

M. Viviani said:

"I am surprised and delighted by our generous reception in your great mid-west. Receptions everywhere accorded us have been truly remarkable and magnificent. Not only is it grand and impressive, but touching and charming."

"The presence of children everywhere in such great numbers in the streets delighted us. But the beauty of it all is the way everything was organized and conducted. It left a deep impression upon us and the memories we carry away from the mid-west are among the most pleasant of the entire trip."

"Our visit to Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis and the journey through Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Missouri were a revelation to us."

"We found our conceptions of America surpassed, for it is by direct contact alone that we were able to judge all we had read and heard of America's vast potential resources and facilities and her progress."

"We realize the middle west is the granary not only of the United States but almost of the entire world. We now know the unlimited part this territory can play in the planting and reaping of large crops that will do so much to aid us in winning this war."

"After seeing the splendid men, women and children of the mid-west we feel no uneasiness as to what they will do in the war. As for their willingness to do this, the reception accorded us everywhere makes us confident not only the means but the spirit are there to do it."

Vice-Admiral Chocheprat and M. Hovelacque expressed similar sentiments.

Governors of five states, two of which contain a preponderance of so-called German-Americans, lent their official weight to making the visit of the commission a patriotic field day. They pledged the vast resources of their commonwealths to the French cause in which America has joined. The mayors of six big mid-western cities also added their similar patriotic assertions.

Missouri and Illinois, two states which have thousands of citizens of German birth, threw themselves fully into the entertainment of the Joffre party.

"The middle west has been vindicated," said a government official attached to the mission. "It has risen nobly and thrown back into the very teeth of its accusers any imputation it is lethargic in the war."

Members of the mission were overwhelmed with the splendor of the Mississippi valley and the great reception accorded them. They asked the press of the nation today to return their thanks.

Fire at West Park.

Fire destroyed the large barn and feed house belonging to Vincent Quinn of West Park on Tuesday morning. The fire first started at the top of the building and in a few minutes the whole building was in flames. With the quick help of Murrey Green the horses were rescued. Then the women started a bucket brigade and fortunately as quick as the men of the village and of Col. O. H. Payne's saw the smoke the United States and worked under great difficulties and saved another large barn opposite. If it had been a windy day many West Park families would have been homeless.

SIGNAL RESERVE IS NOW ORGANIZED

New York Telephone Company Takes Action to Aid National Defense—To Furnish 25 Companies of Experts for Signal Work.

It is announced that the New York Telephone Company has completed the organization of the Volunteer Reserve Signal Corps Companies which have been formed to offer their services to the government for telephone and telegraph work.

Under the plan recently announced by the company, 2,871 telephone men signified their intention to enlist in the Volunteer Reserve Signal Corps. The examination of these men for the formation of a permanent organization has been going on rapidly under the supervision of Lieut. Col. Hartmann, U. S. A., signal officer, eastern department, selected to make up the first contingent.

John J. Carly, chief engineer of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, and senior major, signal reserve corps, U. S. Army, is in charge of the signal reserve work for the Bell Company.

H. H. Shearer of the New York Telephone Company, has been commissioned as major in the signal reserve corps in charge of the New York Company military organization. The Bell System will furnish 25 companies of expert telephone and telegraph men for signal work. Of these the New York Company will furnish five, two from its Manhattan, Bronx and Westchester divisions, one from its Long Island division, and one from its New Jersey division.

A company has also been made up from the Albany, Syracuse and Buffalo districts and is now awaiting an enlistment officer.

After passing the medical examination the men selected will be sworn into the regular army signal Enlisted Reserve Corps and will be held awaiting orders from the war department. Later on they will be sent to an instruction camp. In the meantime there will be voluntary drilling to prepare for the camp.

Officers for Signal Reserve Corps unit are now being drilled for this work at Governor's Island under Col. Hartmann.

As soon as these men are enlisted in the companies it is planned to secure their equipment through regular army channels. The war department has authorized the signal department to form several battalions of Reserve Signal Companies and it is under its provision that this equipment will be arranged for.

RECKLESS DRIVING ON THE STRAND

Young Schussler, Driving an Auto, Missed Killing Conductor William Deegan by Inches on Tuesday Afternoon—80 Miles an Hour.

One of the most reckless pieces of automobile driving seen in some time on Kingston streets was that staged on the Strand on Tuesday afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock when a young man named Schussler driving an automobile at thirty or more miles an hour escaped running down and killing Conductor William Deegan of the Colonial division of the trolley road, by a matter of very few inches.

Conductor Deegan was in charge of the trolley car on its way to Ponckhockie. The trolley car had just stopped at the second railroad crossing on the Strand and Conductor Deegan was walking ahead close to the car when the auto with the speed of an express train bore down upon him and before Deegan had a chance to dodge or move the automobile shot by, the mud guard missing Deegan's body by three or four inches. Deegan's face grew white as he realized his narrow escape from sudden death while passengers in the trolley car gasped, some looking away thinking that Deegan would be hurled in the air by the auto.

So fast was the automobile traveling that when the trolley car started ahead across the railroad tracks the auto was but a speck in the distance.

It is the reckless road hogs like young Schussler that caused the common council to refuse to remove the speed limit of fifteen miles in the city, and that he did not kill a man was due more to his good luck than skill.

The police should get busy and round up these speed maniacs, and then the law's limit should be imposed on one or two of them and the practice of using the city's streets as a speedway would soon be halted.

WILSON TO ACT AS PATRON.

For the A. B. F. B. Permanent Blind Relief War Fund.

The A. B. F. B. Permanent Blind Relief War Fund for Soldiers and Sailors is the first organization of the kind to receive the distinguished patronage of the president of the United States who has just consented to head the American section of the fund. Governor Whitman and Mayor Mitchell have consented to serve in the capacity of honorary vice presidents.

The finance committee of the fund consists of Messrs. Otto H. Kahn, George A. Kessler, Edmund L. Pavley and Frank A. Vanderlip, who recently called the French committee a guarantee of 200,000 francs annually for the next five years and expressed the hope that the fund might be able to increase the annual allowance and to extend the guarantee for an additional five or ten years.

Now that this fund is under the patronage of President Wilson, as well as that of the king and queen of England, Queen Alexandra, the king and queen of Belgium, and the president of France the executive committee feels sure that a new impetus will be given to the work in this country and that the hearts of Americans will respond anew to the needs of the blinded heroes who have been sacrificed to a cause which is now their own.

Checks and donations will be gratefully acknowledged if mailed to George H. Buskinner, Esq., Treasurer A. B. F. B. Permanent Blind Relief War Fund, Albany Trust Co., Albany, N. Y.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

What sculpture is to a block of marble, education is to a human being.—Addison.

Most people would succeed in small things if they were not troubled with great ambitions.—H. W. Longfellow.

WAYS WITH EGGS.

The omelet is a general favorite and almost any kind will be well received. As eggs are now becoming more plentiful and cheaper in price we may occasionally indulge in a well-made omelet.

Spanish Omelet.—Separate the whites and yolks of six eggs; beat three tablespoons of cold water with the yolks, seasoning with a half teaspoonful of salt and a few dashes of pepper. Stir in the stiffly beaten whites very lightly. Have ready a steel omelet pan, very hot and lightly greased with a tablespoonful of butter. When the omelet is well set on the bottom, place in the oven to cook on top; then fold over and serve with tomato sauce well seasoned. To make the sauce, use a can of tomato, a chopped onion, salt and paprika and a tablespoonful of chopped green peppers. Cook until soft and then strain. Place a tablespoonful of butter in a saucepan; when bubbling hot add a tablespoonful of cornstarch; cook until thoroughly cooked, add to the sauce and pour over the omelet.

For those who enjoy a sweet omelet, the following prepared as above with these additions, is very good: Place a half cupful of blanched almonds in the omelet pan just before turning in the omelet. Give the almonds a little time to become hot and covered with butter, but do not let them brown or the later cooking will burn them, then turn in the omelet and proceed as before, fold the omelet and surround with a hot maple syrup. The combination is especially delicious, as the nuts are crisp and a delicate brown.

Holland Eggs.—Beat four tablespoons of flour with a teaspoonful of baking powder and sweet milk to make a thick batter. Add three or four well-beaten eggs; thin with a little milk and pour into a hot, buttered frying pan. Cover and set over a good fire. Slip a spatula under the sides and edges and when light and puffy turn the whole cake deftly. When brown slip on to a hot plate, butter and sprinkle with maple sugar.

BUY STONE-LINED Refrigerators MOST ECONOMICAL and SANITARY

In choosing a refrigerator be careful lest your judgment be guided by appearances more than by scientific construction.

All our refrigerators are purchased with the view of giving the public the best obtainable in an ice-saving and sanitary cooler.

We can recommend the stone-lined refrigerator to be the best on the market.

The inside of stone-lined refrigerators is like the clear, cold, pure air of a mountain top. They are ice-savers. There's no mingling of odors—no soggy food—even salt will remain dry.

Why They're the Best

A housewife does not BUY stone lined refrigerator—she simply advances its purchase price, and its ice-saving and food-saving refunds to her what she paid; and, then, it goes on saving money for her day by day—year after year!

The real purpose of a stone lined refrigerator—is to PRESERVE FOODS!

Beyond this, it is to preserve them for the longest period, at the least expense for ice.

Suppose a stone lined refrigerator saves a housewife 5 cents a day on ice—that item alone amounts to $18.00 a year! And—that's half the prices of a GOOD Alaska refrigerator!

On this basis, an Alaska will pay for itself in two years; and, ten years later, will have saved $180. If a housewife had this $180 in cash, in her hands, right now—to spend it at once on whatever she needs for a home—think of all the good things she could get to add to the comforts of that home!

On the basis of food spoilage—suppose the Alaska saves just 10 cents a day. That amounts to $36 a year. In ten years—$360. Added to the $180 ice saving, over a period of ten years, it totals $540.

It is almost enough to buy a modern motor car.

There is no BETTER value on the market than the stone lined refrigerators; and this is proved by the fact that more than one million are in use.

Sunday School at the Grange Hall May 13th at 3 o'clock.

Clinton Chapter, O. E. S., News.

On Monday evening about twenty members from Clinton Chapter visited Highland Chapter, also many were there from Kingston and Emanuel Chapters, and they found that the members of Highland Chapter still hold their reputation of "doing things up brown."

On returning home one of Clinton Chapter's cars, filled to the brim with the young fair sex of the chapter, got lost on the Union Centre desert and then stuck in the mud and it was after the break of day they came rolling up Broadway, a trifle wet and muddy, but happy.

On Friday evening of this week a regular stated meeting will be held at which time three candidates will be initiated.

The social hour committee, of which Mrs. Emma Powley is chairman, will give an entertainment after the initiation. There will also be something to eat and drink.

All Master Masons and Stars are invited and that means be on hand as they are going to have a good time.

FOR CREDIT RATING BUREAU.

Announcement by Chamber of Commerce of New and Useful Agency.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce recently confirmed the appointment by President Leighton of the following well known business men to act as a committee to establish a credit bureau which had been recommended previously by a provisional committee as an important part of the program of work: S. M. Watts, chairman; John H. Gregory, A. E. Rose, Nicholas Stock and Wesley Waterbury.

This committee has met and outlined plans for the immediate organization of a credit rating bureau which, it is believed, will prove of much practical value to the business and professional men of the community. The advantages and service of the bureau is to be conducted at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters, will be open to any merchant or professional man who is a member in good standing of the Chamber of Commerce without charge. Applications for membership in the bureau should be filed at once with Secretary Canfield.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MAY 9, 1917.

Because of the delay on the selective conscription bill and the absence of information as to just what the Federal age limit will be fixed at, there has been much confusion over the two enrollments soon to be taken up by the National and State governments. As we understand it, the Federal enrollment will be confined to young men eligible for military service and will be in charge of the sheriff, the county clerk and the city health officer. The State census will be more elaborate and include all males and females between the ages of 16 and 50 years, together with a list of their qualifications for any special line of activity. Just as soon as Congress definitely decides upon the method of raising the first expeditionary force, and the reserve army which will be trained through the summer, the Federal enrollment will be under way. It is satisfying to note the attitude of members of the Republican and Democratic party committees who have been drafted for this service. Not a word of complaint but a willingness to sacrifice time and money to serve the government has been their characteristic attitude, without any hysteria whatever. Practical politicians are as patriotic as reformers and usually far more efficient, although less noisy.

The Federal Trade Commission has announced that there is an ample coal supply, that the unusually high prices prevailing in many places are unjustified, and that buying in a panic should be avoided. True enough, no doubt, but until the government receives authority to fix fuel prices (through the passage of the Lever or other bill) and resolutely interferes, little change in the conditions can be said to be promised. The coal men rather have our sympathy in that their business seems destined to be the first to be visited with government price-fixing and they are likely to be the goats for all the initial reform experiments that the statesmen at Washington are capable of devising.

The success of Germany in the present war "will make freedom anywhere upon the earth impossible," according to ex-Congressman Edwin Denby, who has enlisted as a private of marines because "all can not begin as officers"—as too many seem to suppose. Writing in the Detroit Free Press, Mr. Denby pointedly says: "The country needs men. It needs men badly. It is foolish to soothe ourselves with hopes of an early peace. If Russia is seduced from her alliance or her life threatened by the German armies and so literally forced to a separate peace, or if the undersea warfare prevails against Great Britain, the United States will stand in the shadow of a terrible disaster. Germany is an outlaw that can not be dealt with except by force. I profoundly feel that the future of the United States is at stake. Victory or destruction are our only alternatives. Therefore, no sacrifice that any man can make, or any woman, is too great at this time." At a time when advice is so free and unreserved as at present, we commend Mr. Denby's words to our readers, words backed by patriotic action.

A Berlin editor, lamenting the slight influence exerted upon our government by Germans resident in this country, states that such efficient agitation as they can conduct is achieved only by "taking shelter behind their pacifist friends." But apparently some "German-American" editors do not even think it necessary to hide behind a pacifist's skirts. Summoned by Mayor Mitchell to explain certain more than questionable editorials, the proprietor of the New York Staats-Zeitung claimed that they were written without his knowledge, but later permitted the publication of another editorial of the same kind. Then, after being "sent for" by the mayor again, the proprietor saw fit to repudiate the offensive matter in a published statement. Disloyalty dies hard, particularly when heartened by the encouragement of pacifists who strangely persist even after the period of legitimate utterance has passed.

Replies to queries addressed by the New York Sun to the heads of Western colleges as to what they are doing to help win the war show that great numbers of alumni, students and faculty members have enlisted for military, naval, hospital or farm service. Athletics have been widely abandoned for military training. In many cases the college campus is the scene of only military exercises, while ball fields are being ploughed up for planting. The girl students are forming Red Cross and hospital units and even helping in the farming. Most of the replies state that all seniors excused for military duty will be graduated with their class. The replies vary in particulars, but all show the same patriotic spirit, adding to the accumulating testimony that the people all over the land are deeply stirred and that war preparation of the unofficial character is country-wide. These stirring reports from the West tell the same story that has come from the educational institutions of the other sections.

How a rare thing it is to see the householder in city or suburb planting apple trees in his yard. Many of the older places have apple trees upon them, but few new ones are being set out. Why this valuable and beautiful tree is not widely used upon small places is hard to determine.

Apples will grow upon any soil and in almost any climate in this country. The trees are inexpensive, easy to plant and easy to care for. If taken in hand early and pruned in a proper manner they can be formed up in almost any desired shape and will add materially to the artistic features of any home. The trees grow rapidly and will begin to blossom and bear fruit in from two to six years after setting out, this time depending upon the age and variety of the tree and the climate in which they are grown.

They are unsurpassed for shade, and nothing is more attractive than an apple tree covered with its wonderfully sweet pink and white blossoms of the spring, particularly if it be your own apple tree. No tree will furnish more shade in a shorter length of time, and because of their low habit of growth they do not obstruct the view from the upper part of the house, nor keep the shingles damp.

Entirely aside from the landscape value of apple trees, their fruit is a very important item, and good home-grown apples need no recommendation. A striped Astrakhan, or a Snow apple, picked fresh from the tree and eaten "alive" can't be surpassed. The horticulturists have demonstrated that one can have a good crop of apples every year with the right kind of management. The secret of the plan is to keep the trees well fed and sprayed, and then thin out the fruit as soon as its sets, so that there is only one apple to a single twig. You may not get so many apples this way, but they will be bigger and much better, and you will have them every year.

Potash is the stuff that makes the apple blush. Your soil contains tons of it, but only a little is digestible, hence it will pay to work a little sulphate of potash into the soil around each tree every year.

Don't neglect to spray your apple trees, or any other trees or bush fruits for that matter. Get your spray material from your local seedman, and spray it on with a bucket sprayer. Use lime, salt and sulphur before the leaves are out, to kill scale insects, etc., and spray with Bordeaux mixture when the petals begin to fall, and ten days later, to dispose of apple worms. The reason your neighbors have poor luck with apples is because they do not prune and spray.

In planting new apple trees, buy trees that are two or three years old, and plant them early in the spring, the earlier the better.

Summer varieties are usually better than winter kinds because they give you early fruit, and that is what the backyard apple tree is for. If you have some old trees that are not bearing well, clean them up, cut back the tops, prune out the useless wood, and spray.

Might Have Done Better.

Golfers, as everybody knows, are the most optimistic persons in the world, remarks a writer in the Chicago Inter Ocean. They have to be in order to stay with the game at all. D. F. Kelly, president of the Exmoor Golf club, was scheduled to play a match game recently at Homewood, and while waiting for his caddy to arrive with the clubs and balls he overheard two ardent amateurs in conversation in the locker room.

"If I had been allowed to play my own game," declared one, "instead of having my strokes changed by the professional, I would have made a good deal better record."

"What was your score?" inquired the other.

"Well," said the player hopefully, "I made 127 as it was."

Knew His Customers.

Mrs. George Bass and Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout were accosted on a down town street the other day by a vest pocket edition of a newsboy, whose stentorian voice was in inverse ratio to his size.

"Paup'! Paup'! All about the terrible molder!" bawled the little fellow.

"See here," said Mrs. Bass, confronting him, "nobody wants to read about a terrible molder. Now, suppose you start over again and yell something like: 'All about the national suffrage day.' Just try it once and see how it goes."

"Aw, suffrage day aughtin'," replied the disgruntled little merchant. "Dat just goes to show how much women know about business."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Both Slow to Settle.

Landlord—Good morning, sir. Just dropped in to see if it's convenient for you to pay your rent.

Tenant—Glad you called. I want to complain about the doors; none of them will shut.

L.—New house, you know, sir—takes time to settle.

T.—Ah! then I guess I'll follow the house's example. Good day, sir. Call again.

Them There Wimmles.

One of the newest

YOU see it here; one of the new, live sport suit ideas direct from style headquarters.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

have expressed the breezy, comfortable, outdoor idea in a number of these smart variations; we'll be glad to show you any of them.

Here's one very important point; the style success of Hart Schaffner & Marx is due to the quality of materials and fine tailoring—without these things the style would not stay stylish, the suit wouldn't fit you long.

Good style calls for high quality; remember that.

For Lady Mine

THE dressing-table is the one piece of furniture which is made for the exclusive possession of Milady. In selecting a sleeping-room suite, the style of the dressing-table should be considered for its winsome qualities and refinement.

Berkey & Gay devote much thought to the production of dressing-tables in the feminine manner. Delicacy of treatment and harmony with the balance of the suite are maintained. While you are always more than welcome to visit our store, we urge you particularly to call at this time. The Spring Exhibits are interesting and varied. We want to prove to you that modest prices and good taste can be successfully combined in furniture.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.—STATE OF NEW YORK, office of the state commission of highways, Albany, N. Y.—Pursuant to the provisions of chapter 30, laws of 1906, as amended by chapter 644, laws of 1911, and chapter 80, laws of 1913, sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned at their office, No. 55 Lancaster street, Albany, N. Y., at one o'clock p. m., on Monday, the 25th day of May, 1917, for the repair of the following highways: ULSTER COUNTY.

Class of Rep. Con. No. Work Road No. Name of Bid. Mac. Resurfacing 281 Post Part. (No guarantee) 210 Old Post Road

Maps, plans, specifications and estimates may be seen and proposed forms obtained at the office of the commission in Albany, N. Y., and also at the office of Division Engineer B. B. Wright, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. (Columbia Institute, Washington street).

The special attention of bidders is called to "GENERAL INFORMATION FOR BIDDERS" in the itemized proposal, specifications and contract agreement.

Proposals for each road or contract must be presented in a separate sealed envelope, endorsed on the outside with the name and number of the road or contract for which the proposal is made. Each proposal must be accompanied by cash or a certified check payable to the order of the State Commission of Highways for an amount equal to at least five per cent of the amount of the proposal which such cash or check accompanies.

This cash or check will be held by the commission until the contract and bond are duly executed.

The successful bidder will be required to give a performance bond for fifty per cent of the contract, and a maintenance bond covering the wearing surface of all roads except macadam and concrete, and cement concrete pavements for twenty per cent of the contract price of the items which comprise the wearing surface. Such bonds to be executed by a surety company to be approved by the commission, or a bond secured by the deposit of collateral securities to be approved by the commission.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

The Cook Is Known by her Kitchen

A clean kitchen is the sign of a good cook. And a kitchen that keeps clean without constant drudgery is the sign of an up-to-date cook—one who uses the New Perfection Oil Cook Stove.

No coal-hod or ash-pan drudgery. You never have to sweep up after cooking on the New Perfection. Cooks fast or slow as you like, without soot or ashes. It's the Long Blue Chimney that does it. Visible flame that stays "put."

In use in more than 2,500,000 homes. Ask your dealer for booklet. Inquire, too, about the New Perfection Kerosene Water Heater. It gives abundant hot water for laundry or bath at low cost.

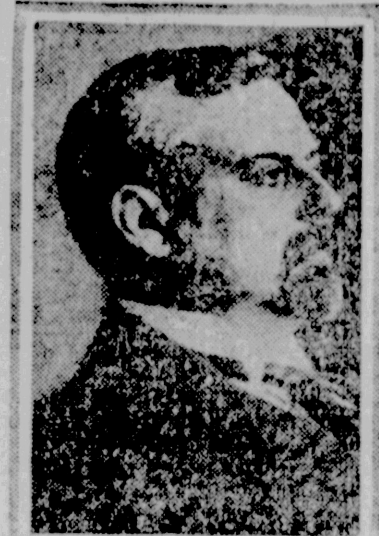

For best results use SOCONY Kerosene.

SEVEN SKINS GOT MAX IN TROUBLE

Max Kantrowitz, 34 years old, was arrested on Tuesday evening by Officer John G. Boyd, on a warrant sworn out by Jacob Forst of Abel street, who accused Max of stealing seven lamb skins from his warehouse on Abel street. Max was arraigned before Recorder Lang this morning and entered a plea of not guilty and the case was adjourned until next Wednesday morning. Bail was fixed at $200 by Recorder Lang and was furnished by Max. His bondsman was Louis Avenet of lower Broadway. Max explained to the court that he had bought the seven lamb skins from another man who said he had got them from a friend in the country. He had paid the man $4.70 apiece for them and had sold them to another Hebrew for a profit of about $1.50 on each skin.

PROF. AMOS S. HERSEY
FIVE-MINUTE TALKS BY NATIONAL LEADERS
BY PROFESSOR AMOS S. HERSEY
(Of Indiana University.)

An alliance with Great Britain would make much easier the preservation of our liberties and vital interests and the development of our national policies in America as well as in Europe and the Far East.

The British Empire is largely a confederacy of free peoples with sentiments and institutions similar to our own, and, except in certain matters of trade, our mutual interests are not seriously antagonistic.

Where such interests do conflict, as perhaps in Latin America, they are readily capable of compromise or adjustment.

The fundamental mutual interests of both the British Empire and the United States are those usually denominated in our presidential campaigns as "peace and prosperity."

In the main, both peoples are materialistic and utilitarian. In both countries no eloquent appeal with more force than those of the "foul dinner pail" and national security with a view to the enjoyment of "all the comforts of home."

War is generally regarded by the Anglo-Saxon world not merely as a useless survival of a barbaric past, but as a rule an unwelcome disturbance of business, of games, and of all the other peaceful vocations and avocations in which our citizens as well as British subjects delight.

Another mutual and perhaps sentimental (though no less vital) interest is that described by such terms or phrases as democracy, the right of self-government, western liberalism, the political and economic freedom of the individual (including the emancipation of women), etc.

If we desire the triumph of such ideals over Prussian militarism, autocracy and organization, the best way would seem to be to form an alliance with the British Empire and act in conjunction with the newly awakened democracies of Russia and China, as well as with the older democracies of France and Italy.

Wedding Presents in Hungary.

Wedding presents in Hungary are given only to poor couples to help them to get their home together. The girl friends of the bride show attention by making cakes of various kinds to be partaken of at the wedding feast. There is no wedding cake, as we understand it, but each guest receives a kind of sweet cake of the substance of cracker biscuits made in the form of a ring about ten inches in diameter.

When a 1,400-foot well in a western town was yielding impure water, the superintendent of the water works wondered how he could locate the trouble. The trouble was located at a depth of 110 feet, where loose packing permitted surface water to enter.

BUY STONE-LINED Refrigerators

MOST ECONOMICAL and SANITARY

In choosing a refrigerator be careful lest your judgment be guided by appearances more than by scientific construction.

All our refrigerators are purchased with the view of giving the public the best obtainable in an ice-saving and sanitary cooler.

We can recommend the stone-lined refrigerator to be the best on the market.

The inside of stone-lined refrigerators is like the clear, cold, pure air of a mountain top. They are ice-savers. There's no mingling of odors—no soggy food—even salt will remain dry.

Why They're the Best

A housewife does not BUY stone lined refrigerator—she simply advances its purchase price, and its ice-saving and food-saving returns to her what she paid; and, then, it goes on saving money for her day by day—year after year!

The real purpose of a stone lined refrigerator—is to PRESERVE FOODS!

Beyond this, it is to preserve them for the longest period, at the least expense for ice.

Suppose a stone lined refrigerator saves a housewife 5 cents a day on ice—that item alone amounts to $18.00 a year! And—that's half the price of a GOOD Alaska refrigerator!

On this basis, an Alaska will pay for itself in two years; and, ten years later, will have saved $180. If a housewife had this $180 in cash in her hands, right now—to spend it at once on whatever she needs for a home—think of all the good things she could get to add to the comforts of that home!

On the basis of food spoilage—suppose the Alaska saves just 10 cents a day. That amounts to $36 a year. In ten years—$360. Added to the $180 ice saving, over a period of ten years, it totals $540.

It is almost enough to buy a modern motor car.

There is no BETTER value on the market than the stone lined refrigerators; and this is proved by the fact that more than one million are in use.

Port Ewen, May 9.—Charles Vincent and George Vincent, who are doing carpenter work at Beaver Lake, N. J., spent the week end at their home here.

Esopus Council, No. 42, Sons and Daughters of Liberty will meet in Hutton's Hall this evening at 8 o'clock.

Miss Dora Vincent was given a complete surprise at her home on Salem street, Monday evening, the occasion being the celebration of Miss Lora's fourteenth birthday.

The following guests were present: The Misses Genevieve Ricks, Vivian Holliday, Mildred Crook, Mifflin Gillette, Agnes Kenney, Beatrice Polhemus, Fern Lynn and the Messrs. Robert Maroney, George Leitching, Leland Schaeffer and George Hugh of Esopus. Unity refreshments were served and games played, and all had a very pleasant time and wished Miss Dora many like occasions.

Eugene Wayne spent Tuesday with his daughter, Mrs. Reginald Van Leuven, on Broadway.

Keep in mind the meeting of the Brotherhood in the Methodist Chapel this evening.

Vincent LeFever has purchased a beautiful new Shoninger piano of E. Winter & Sons, Kingston, through their efficient agent, William C. Minard. It was delivered this week.

The choir of the Reformed Church will meet for rehearsal this evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Prayer meeting in the Reformed Church will be conducted Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock by Andrew M. Taylor, and it is hoped new interest will be shown and a full meeting will be the result.

Principal J. H. Tanner of New Hamburg called on his old friend and class mate, J. U. Gillette, last week.

At the Brotherhood meeting of the Reformed Church last night it was decided to obtain a good play for Decoration Day night. The play will be announced later. Proceeds to go to the church building fund.

Miss Sanbourne of New York city, is the guest of Mrs. John Cook.

The Local Union of O. E. of Kingston will conduct a service at the Grange Hall in the near future.

Miss Margery Brett of West Saugerties spent the week end at her home.

The singing class held their rehearsal at the Grange Hall on Friday evening. There was an excellent attendance and much interest was shown.

Miss Marion Kingman spent the week end with her cousin, Frances Brink.

At the regular Grange meeting held Monday evening, first and second degrees were conferred on Roy Crosby and Clinton Lawson.

Miss Elna Thomas of Flatbush, spent several days with the Misses Brink.

Miss K. O. Van Keuren spent Friday with Mrs. William L. Brink.

Mrs. Frank K. Smith, formerly of Sawkill, died at Far Rockaway last week. She was a sister of Mrs. William Legg and James Gaddis, of Lake Katrine. She is survived by her husband and two sons.

Sunday School at the Grange Hall May 13th at 2 o'clock.

Clinton Chapter, O. E. S., News.

On Monday evening about twenty members from Clinton Chapter visited Highland Chapter, also many were there from Kingston and Emanuel Chapters, and they found that the members of Highland Chapter still hold their reputation of "doing things up brown."

On returning home one of Clinton Chapter's cars, filled to the brim with the young fair sex of the chapter, got lost on the Union Centre desert and then stuck in the mud and it was after the break of day they came rolling up Broadway, a trifle wet and muddy, but happy.

On Friday evening of this week a regular stated meeting will be held at which time three candidates will be initiated.

The social hour committee, of which Mrs. Emma Powley is chairman, will give an entertainment after the initiation. There will also be something to eat and drink.

All Master Masons and Stars are invited and that means be on hand as they are going to have a good time.

FOR CREDIT RATING BUREAU.

Announcement by Chamber of Commerce of New and Useful Agency.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce recently confirmed the appointment by President Leighton of the following well known business men to act as a committee to establish a credit bureau which had been recommended previously by a provisional committee as an important part of the program of work: S. M. Watts, chairman; John H. Gregory, A. E. Rose, Nicholas Stock and Wesley Waterbury.

This committee has met and outlined plans for the immediate organization of a credit rating bureau which, it is believed, will prove of much practical value to the business and professional men of the community. The advantages and service of the bureau is to be conducted at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters, will be open to any merchant or professional man who is a member in good standing of the Chamber of Commerce without charge. Applications for membership in the bureau should be filed at once with Secretary Canfield.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, May 9.—Large numbers of German and Austrian prisoners are to be brought to this country and established in prison camps on reclamation projects in the far west, if present plans are carried out. This will solve the problem of feeding them which now is a serious one for the French officials.

Washington—Following a lengthy conference at the home of Secretary Daniels participated in by all naval chiefs and the naval consulting board, it was stated that "substantial progress" in solving the submarine problem had been made. "We will let the results talk," said Secretary Daniels in refusing details.

Washington—The United States Steel Corporation will take 25 million dollars worth of the new liberty bonds. Other big corporations will follow this example, Secretary McAdoo said, today.

Washington—Officers in charge of the training for officers which opens next week at Fort Myer have trimmed 1,700 names from the list of eligibles in order to take care of "men of mature age and judgment" who are needed in the first ten thousand.

Washington—War department officials are being urged to name General John J. Pershing as commander of the first American expedition to France. It is suggested that Pershing's division is ready for action and is trained to the minute, being made up of regular troops who have been on the Mexican border for months.

A Question of Money

By WARREN MILLER

Jim Spangler, the grandson of a California "forty-niner," inherited from his progenitor not only wealth, but something of his brusqueness. Jim went to Italy soon after completing his education, where he fell in with one of the many princes of that country, a man of fifty, with a family of marvellous daughters. It occurred to Jim that since he was known to be very rich, he might aspire to the hand of one of these princesses notwithstanding that he was a commoner. Jim asked an Italian friend what he thought about it, and the friend said that a match might be brought about, but it must be done in the European and not the American way.

Jim, after long deliberation, concluded to enter the matrimonial machine and get himself ground out a husband. In a way he would be free to back out provided he was willing to appear to turn down a girl who would not be permitted to turn him down, whether she liked him or not, for her father had the disposition of her hand and if he gave his consent to the match that settled the matter for his daughter.

The Princess Lita was twenty years old and a beautiful girl, but any old brought out for inspection by the man who has been provided to be her husband is naturally at a disadvantage. The princess was tongue tied during the whole visit, and when Jim left the palazzo he drew a sigh of relief.

"Great heavens!" he said to himself. "Just think of having to spend a lifetime with a woman as hard to talk to as that!"

Jim was now as anxious to withdraw from the affair as he had been to get into it. He had thought much and with pride upon taking a princess back home with him as his wife, but even this honor was not enough to make up for living with a woman who had not spoken a word to him during his visit.

The next question was how to withdraw from the arrangement. After much thought and discarding many plans Jim settled on the following: He would say that so beautiful, so high born a lady, would be considered in America to have demeaned herself by marrying a miner's grandson and her place in American society would be equivocal. For that reason a marriage between them would be inadvisable.

Jim turned this over in his mind, looking at it from every point of view, and considered it a stroke of genius. He communicated it to the prince, who said nothing, but was much disappointed at the failure to provide for one of his daughters, especially since his finances were in an extremely low state. Jim asked permission to send a token of his own disappointment to the young lady. It was granted, provided the article was not of any pecuniary value. Jim sent through the prince a brooch consisting of a cluster of diamonds.

Jim, through the American minister, secured an invitation to a reception of the king of Italy at the Quirinal palace. He got himself up in as fine style as possible, but since most of the men present wore some sort of uniform Jim's ordinary evening dress looked commonplace. A group of men surrounded a young lady who was evidently attracting them with her vivacity. Jim approached in order to get a view of her and recognized the princess he had turned down. Later he met her walking with a man embellished with medals and was preparing to give her a courtly bow when she passed him, chatting in an animated fashion with her attendant, but without the slightest recognition of him.

Nothing will demoralize a man so quickly as being ignored by a woman. Jim realized that he had made a guy of himself. Either he had no business to ask the prince for his daughter or he should have accepted the gift when made. But Jim was thrown out of his equilibrium by another consideration. He had declined a belle, one whose vivacity was as apparent on this second meeting as was her stiffness on the first. He deplored having turned down not only a princess, but a very attractive princess.

After a week's consideration as to the practicability of undoing what he had done he remembered that he had been told that the princess' hand was at the disposal of her father and her father was in the market financially for a husband for her. Jim concluded to submit the matter to him, feeling assured that if he could control his daughter the door would still be open to him.

So he called on the prince and told him that he had determined to make his home in Italy and the reasons why he had considered a marriage with the princess inadvisable did not pertain to any country save America. He therefore begged leave to renew his proposition.

The prince, who seemed disposed to keep on good terms with him, said that he was greatly disappointed at being obliged to refuse him, but an Austrian nobleman who had met his daughter at the Quirinal ball had proposed for her hand and had been accepted.

Jim was thrown almost into a fever by this refusal and believed that he had ruined his peace of mind forever. But before he left Rome something occurred that restored his equanimity. In a jewelry store he found for sale the diamond brooch he had sent the princess. After all, the whole affair had been a question of money.

American Mineral Oil

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Use of Mineral Oil.

Dr. Le Tanneur contributes to the Paris Medical some practical points in the use of mineral oil in constipation. The oil, he says, is in no way digested or even modified by the juices of the stomach and intestines. It acts as a lubricant and nothing else, though it tends to heal abrasions of the intestinal wall caused by rough particles of food.

The New York Medical Journal says mineral oil should be taken either before breakfast or after dinner, two tablespoonfuls being a dose. Its use should be continued every day for at least a fortnight, when the bowels will continue to work naturally without it, for the mineral oil is in no sense a cathartic, but it will cure constipation.—Kingston Daily Freeman, February 17, 1917.

A GREAT GROWTH IN GAS BUSINESS

Kingston Consumption Has Tripled in 15 Years in Keeping With Increase All Over Country—Higher Costs Make Gas Popular Fuel.

Some idea may be had of the magnitude of at least one branch of public service corporations from the following figures compiled by the United States Census Bureau.

There are approximately 1,500 gas companies in the country supplying gas service to nearly 40,000,000 people in 4,800 cities and towns.

Gas companies annually require in their operations 6,000,000 tons of coal, 1,000,000 tons of coke, 750,000,000 gallons of oil at an approximate of over $55,000,000.

Out of this crude raw material the gas companies, by employing 60,000 persons, turn out and distribute annually over 300,000,000 cubic feet of gas used in over 1,000 different ways in the home and for manufacturing purposes.

It takes 60,000 miles of street mains to deliver the gas to its consumers.

There are probably 3,000,000 gas ranges alone in the United States, showing the almost universal use of gas for cooking purposes in our country.

Immense sums of money are spent annually by the manufacturers of gas appliances in perfecting their product and bringing it up to a high standard of efficiency. Service to the consumer is the modern slogan under which the gas companies, and in fact all other utility corporations such as the electric, street railway, telephone, and telegraph interests are endeavoring to build up their business.

Owing to the continually increasing cost in all staple commodities, foods, coal and oil, gas is rapidly becoming the logical and most economical fuel for universal use.

In Kingston the progress that has been made during the last fifteen years, in the application of gas for fuel and light and of electricity for light and power has been considerable, when it is taken into consideration that the increase in population has been almost negligible during the same period.

In the year 1901—1,500 consumers used 25,781,000 cubic feet of gas while in 1916 there were 4,800 consumers using 93,919,000 cubic feet of gas.

The company is using annually 5,100 tons of coal, and 202,991 gallons of oil in the manufacture of gas and the yearly pay roll for the manufacture and distribution of gas is $28,888. (The total pay roll of the local company, including the electric department, is over double this amount.) The company is also a large taxpayer, the taxes for the last year amounting to over $24,000.

According to one of its officers, such success as has been achieved in this business has been based entirely upon a recognition by the company of the fact that the secret of success for a public utility is "Service" to its patrons.

MORAN BUSINESS SCHOOL.

Excessive Demand for Office Assistants a Sign of the Times.

Listed below is the progress record of a few young Kingstonians who have profited as a result of courses in practical business education imparted at the Moran Business School, Burgevin Building:

Edgar E. Oughettree, who pursued the combined course, has secured a good position with the McCleary, Walton & Crouse Carpet Mills, Amsterdam, N. Y.

Joseph Mankee, who has been completing his studies at the night sessions of the Moran School, has secured an excellent position with the local agent of the Central-Hudson Steamboat Company, 35 Ferry street. Mr. Mankee recently resigned a position as bookkeeper with the Modern Plumbing & Heating Company.

Alvin Black of the commercial department succeeds Mr. Mankee as bookkeeper with the Modern Plumbing & Heating Company, Broadway, this city.

Joseph E. Brewer, another Moran graduate, who was placed last year with Morris & Company, wholesale packers, through the Moran Free Employment Bureau, has been promoted and is now holding a high grade position as bookkeeper in the company's offices at Philadelphia, Pa. Mr. Brewer's promotion is merely the reward for faithful and satisfactory service and he is to be congratulated on the well merited success with which he has been repaid.

Within the week just ending two young women graduates of the Moran Business School, whose names have as yet not been published, secured good positions in Kingston offices.

The People of the State of New York, to the Sheriff of the County of Ulster, Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon the several persons who shall have been drawn in your county, to serve as jurors, at a County Court, to be held in and for your county, at the Court House, in the City of Kingston, in said county, on Monday, the 4th day of June, 1917, to appear thereat, to bring before the said court, all prisoners then being in the jail of your county, together with all processes and proceedings in any way concerning them in your hands, and make proclamation in manner prescribed by law, notifying all persons bound to appear at the said court by recognizance or otherwise, to appear thereat, and requiring all justices of the peace, coroners and other officers who have taken recognizance for the appearance of any person at said court, or who have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness, to return such recognizances, inquisitions and examinations to the said court at the opening thereof on the first day of its sitting.

Witness, Hon. James Jenkins, Esquire, County Judge of Ulster County, at the Court House in Kingston, this 30th day of April, 1917.

F. C. TRAYER, District Attorney.

PROCLAMATION.—State of New York, Ulster County, ss: I, the undersigned, Sheriff of said County, in conformity to a precept in this behalf directed and delivered by this his proclamation, require all persons bound to appear at the County Court, to be held in and for the said County of Ulster, at Kingston, in said county, on Monday, the 4th day of June, 1917, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, by recognizance or otherwise, to appear thereat. And he requires all justices of the peace, coroners and other officers, who have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at said court, or who have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness, to return such recognizances, inquisitions and examinations to the said court at the opening thereof on the first day of its sitting.

Signed at the sheriff's office in said county April 30, 1917.

E. T. SHULTIS, Sheriff of Ulster County.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MAY 9, 1917.

Because of the delay on the selective conscription bill and the absence of information as to just what the Federal age limit will be fixed at, there has been much confusion over the two enrollments soon to be taken up by the National and State governments. As we understand it, the Federal enrollment will be confined to young men eligible for military service and will be in charge of the sheriff, the county clerk and the city health officer. The State census will be more elaborate and include all males and females between the ages of 16 and 50 years, together with a list of their qualifications for any special line of activity. Just as soon as Congress definitely decides upon the method of raising the first expeditionary force, and the reserve army which will be trained through the summer, the Federal enrollment will be under way. It is satisfying to note the attitude of members of the Republican and Democratic party committees who have been drafted for this service. Not a word of complaint but a willingness to sacrifice time and money to serve the government has been their characteristic attitude, without any hysteria whatever. Practical politicians are as patriotic as reformers and usually far more efficient, although less noisy.

The Federal Trade Commission has announced that there is an ample coal supply, that the unusually high prices prevailing in many places are unjustified, and that buying in a panic should be avoided. True enough, no doubt, but until the government receives authority to fix fuel prices (through the passage of the Lever or other bill) and resolutely interferes, little change in the conditions can be said to be promised. The coal men rather have our sympathy in that their business seems destined to be the first to be visited with government price-fixing and they are busy to use the goits for all the initial reform experiments that the statesmen at Washington are capable of devising.

The success of Germany in the present war "will make freedom anywhere upon the earth impossible," according to ex-Congressman Edwin Denby, who has enlisted as a private of marines because "all can not begin as officers"—as too many seem to suppose. Writing in the Detroit Free Press, Mr. Denby pointedly says: "The country needs men. It needs men badly. It is foolish to soothe ourselves with hopes of an early peace. If Russia is seduced from her alliance or her life threatened by the German armies and so literally forced to a separate peace, or if the undersea warfare prevails against Great Britain, the United States will stand in the shadow of a terrible disaster. Germany is an outlaw that can not be dealt with except by force. I profoundly feel that the future of the United States is at stake. Victory or destruction are our only alternatives. Therefore, no sacrifice that any man can make, or any woman, is too great at this time." At a time when advice is so free and unrestrained as at present, we commend Mr. Denby's words to our readers, words backed by patriotic action.

A Berlin editor, lamenting the slight influence exerted upon our government by Germans resident in this country, states that such efficient agitation as they can conduct is achieved only by "taking shelter behind their pacifist friends." But apparently some "German-American" editors do not even think it necessary to hide behind a pacifist's skirts. Summoned by Mayor Mitchell to explain certain more than questionable editorials, the proprietor of the New York Staats-Zeitung claimed that they were written without his knowledge, but later permitted the publication of another editorial of the same kind. Then, after being "sent for" by the mayor again, the proprietor saw fit to repudiate the offensive matter in a published statement. Disgracefully dies hard, particularly when heartened by the encouragement of pacifists who strangely persist even after the period of legitimate utterance has passed.

Replies to queries addressed by the New York Sun to the heads of Western colleges as to what they are doing to help win the war show that great numbers of alumni, students and faculty members have enlisted for military, naval, hospital or farm service. Athletics have been widely abandoned for military training. In many cases the college campus is the scene of only military exercises, while ball fields are being ploughed up for planting. The girl students are forming Red Cross and hospital units and even helping in the farming. Most of the replies state that all seniors excused for military duty will be graduated with their class. The replies vary in particulars, but all show the same patriotic spirit, adding to the accumulating testimony that the people all over the land are deeply stirred and that war preparation of the unofficial character is country-wide. These stirring reports from the West tell the same story that has come from the educational institutions of the other sections.

SAUGERTIES.

Saugerties, May 9.—George Kopp of Jersey City, who has been the guest of Miss George Vank of Partition street, has returned home.

Miss Jennie Van Hoesen of Main street, is visiting in Troy.

George Whitaker and Leslie MacMullen of New York City, have been the guests of their parents the past few days.

Samuel Pettit, a former resident, is visiting relatives in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Goehelius of Livingston street, returned Tuesday from a visit with relatives in Highland.

A euchre and dance will be given in Columbus Hall for the benefit of St. Mary's Church this evening. Swart's orchestra will furnish music for dancing.

Miss Maude Mont Ross of Mont Ross street, spent Tuesday in Schenectady.

Mrs. Howard Bogardus is ill at his home on West Bridge street with pneumonia.

The annual memorial service of J. H. Tappan Post, No. 215, G. A. R. will be held in the Evangelical Lutheran Church Sunday evening, May 27th. Rev. George T. Heinz will preach the sermon.

SOUTH RONDOUT.

South Rondout, May 9.—Our pastor, the Rev. G. A. Mead, preached two powerful sermons on Sunday. The morning theme was, "Opportunity," and the evening theme, "In Harmony With God."

The leader for the Endeavors on Sunday night was Mrs. Isaac Hotelling (conservation meeting).

Cortland Hicks of Arlington spent Sunday at the home of his brother, Clifford Hicks.

Andrew Busch of New York is spending some time with his family here.

Mrs. Willard Blodgett and daughters Lauretta and Muriel and sons Milton and John, have returned home, after spending the winter in California with her mother, Mrs. Cavanaugh.

Mrs. Cooper and daughter Louise of Beacon spent Saturday at the parsonage with her sister, Mrs. George Mead.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Vogt and sons Charles and Russ of Kingston spent Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vogt and attended services in the church on Sunday evening.

Joseph Scherer is improving his property by putting a porch on his house.

Justin and Dorothy Beck are going to have a May party on Saturday, May 12. If stormy the next Saturday. Admission 3 cents for refreshments. Be at the house of Mrs. Beck at half past two and we will parade past the houses. Bring plate and spoon. Mrs. Beck would like to have the mothers send the money before Saturday and be sure and let the children all come and Mrs. Beck will take good care of them.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Holmes have returned home, after spending a week with her sister, Mrs. Wallace Boyce in New York and while there heard Billy Sunday. Think he is the most wonderful man they ever heard.

Miss Hollingsworth of Kingston called on Mrs. Ida Hyde on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Dunn have returned home, after spending a few days in New York city with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peters.

Miss Evelyn Fletcher of Croton-on-the-Hudson spent Sunday with Miss Ruth Marchant on Connelly Heights.

Henry Pardee of New York spent Sunday with his family.

Willard Blodgett has returned to New York. He came up with his wife and children on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Watts and daughters Ruth and Marjorie of Kingston spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Crivenden.

APPLES.

How a rare thing it is to see the householder in city or suburb planting apple trees in his yard. Many of the older places have apple trees upon them, but few new ones are being set out. Why this valuable and beautiful tree is not widely used upon small places is hard to determine.

Apples will grow upon any soil and in almost any climate in this country. The trees are inexpensive, easy to plant and easy to care for. If taken in hand early and pruned in a proper manner they can be formed up in almost any desired shape and will add materially to the artistic features of any home.

The trees grow rapidly and will begin to blossom and bear fruit in from two to six years after setting out, this time depending upon the age and variety of the tree and the climate in which they are grown.

They are unsurpassed for shade, and nothing is more attractive than an apple tree covered with its wondrously sweet pink and white blossoms of the spring, particularly if it be your own apple tree. No tree will furnish more shade in a shorter length of time, and because of their low habit of growth they do not obstruct the view from the upper part of the house, nor keep the shingles damp.

Entirely aside from the landscape value of apple trees, their fruit is a very important item, and good home-grown apples need no recommendation. A striped Astrakhan, or a Snow apple, picked fresh from the tree and eaten "alive" can't be surpassed.

The horticulturists have demonstrated that one can have a good crop of apples every year with the right kind of management. The secret of the plan is to keep the trees well fed and sprayed, and then thin out the fruit as soon as its sets, so that there is only one apple to a single twig. You may not get so many apples this way, but they will be bigger and much better, and you will have them every year.

Polish is the stuff that makes the apple bluish. Your soil contains tons of it, but only a little is digestible, hence it will pay to work a little sulphate of potash into the soil around each tree every year.

Don't neglect to spray your apple trees, or any other trees or bush fruits for that matter. Get your spray material from your local seedman, and spray it on with a bucket sprayer. Use lime, salt and sulphur before the leaves are out, to kill scale insects, etc., and spray with Bordeaux mixture when the petals begin to fall, and ten days later, to dispose of apple worms. The reason your neighbors have poor luck with apples is because they do not prune and spray.

In planting new apple trees, buy trees that are two or three years old, and plant them early in the spring, the earlier the better.

Summer varieties are usually better than winter kinds because they give you early fruit, and that is what the backyard apple tree is for. If you have some old trees that are not bearing well, clean them up, cut back the tops, prune out the useless wood, and spray.

Might Have Done Better. Golfers, as everybody knows, are the most optimistic persons in the world, remarks a writer in the Chicago Inter Ocean. They have to be in order to stay with the game at all. D. F. Kelly, president of the Exmoor Golf club, was scheduled to play a match game recently at Homewood, and while waiting for his caddy to arrive with the clubs and balls he overheard two ardent amateurs in conversation in the locker room.

"If I had been allowed to play my own game," declared one, "instead of having my strokes changed by the professional, I would have made a good deal better record."

"What was your score?" inquired the other.

"Well," said the player hopefully, "I made 127 as it was."

Knew His Customers. Mrs. George Bass and Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout were accosted on a downtown street the other day by a vest pocket edition of a newsboy, whose stentorian voice was in inverse ratio to his size.

"Palpat! Palpat! All about the turrible molder!" bawled the little fellow.

"See here," said Mrs. Bass, confronting him, "nobody wants to read about a turrible molder. Now, suppose you start over again and yell something like: 'All about the national suffrage day.' Just try it once and see how it goes."

"Aw, suffrage day nuthin'," replied the disgusted little merchant. "Dat just goes to show how much women know about business."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Tenant—Glad you called. I want to complain about the doors; none of them will shut.

Tenant—Ah! then I guess I'll follow the house's example. Good day, sir. Call again.

CLEVELAND OWNER HOPEFUL OF A WINNER

MANAGER FOHL AND THREE INDIAN STARS.

"The best ball club in the world," is the way James C. Dunn, owner of the Cleveland Indians, refers to his players this season. The club, he says, is 30 per cent stronger than in 1916.

"Cleveland will be a strong contender for the championship from the start," Dunn said. "I am tickled to death with the whole combination. We have a fine set of players and great harmony combined."

"Morton is apparently as good as ever, and everybody feels that Joe Wood is due for a comeback. Chapman is a different ball player from what he was a year ago. He looks like the Chapman of 1915."

TRIS A SPARK PLUG

They are calling Tris Speaker the spark plug of the Cleveland Indians. Bobby Roth says Speaker displays so much ginger that he simply makes everybody play better ball.

"The improvement I have shown since I played with Cleveland I owe to Speaker more than anybody else," Bobby said. "After watching him a few minutes you seem to say to yourself, 'Get a move on you, old boy.'"

MAX CAREY AS BALL LAWYER

Outfielder of Pittsburgh Pirates Discovers That Theory is One Thing and Practice Another.

Max Carey of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who first directed his career toward preaching the Gospel, decided during the past winter to add to his ministerial studies a course in law—as it relates to baseball contracts. As a result he reached the conclusion that the reserve clause was a mere scrap of paper and he announced that he was a free agent from the Pittsburgh club. It mattered not that baseball authorities overruled him, Max was sure of his finding. Finally, however, he discovered that theory is one thing and practice another. He waived his claims to free agency and signed a contract with Pittsburgh, reported to the club and says all his energies are being bent toward asserting his claims to being one of the star outfielders of the game. It is well, for each man must stick to his last and Carey, all will agree, is a better ball player than he is a ball lawyer—even better, we take it, on the diamond than in the pulpit, for who ever would have heard of the Reverend Max Carey, while everybody knows and admires Outfielder Max Carey.—Sporting News.

NOTES of the DIAMOND

Big Jeff Tesreau has rounded to form.

Evidently the Georgia Peach believes in spiked neutrality.

Rube Benton is the most backward pitcher on the Giant staff.

Steve Yerkes has been turned over to Indianapolis by the Cubs.

The American league race is over. Comiskey has picked a winner.

Hans Wagner would make a great sheriff. He would be there in a pinch.

The Indians will bear watching IF Smokey Joe Wood is as good as he was in 1912.

If Connie Mack wants to get rid of Amos Strunk he will have no trouble in getting bids.

Walter Johnson is a cattle fancier and looks over the purebreds at every opportunity.

One difference between baseball and war is that war does not have to issue rain checks.

According to all reports, Zinn Beck obtained by Milwaukee from the Cardinals, is playing a bang-up game.

The American league clubs are so evenly matched it looks like Col. IF will be the deciding factor in the race.

The Athletics are greatly improved and IF they can keep out of the collar there's no telling where they might finish.

Sam Rice started his professional career as a pitcher, coming to the Nationals as twirler from the Virginia league.

Manager Rowland feels that his outfit of White Sox this year has a little better than an even chance to win the flag.

Big Jim Vaughan has made up his mind to make a record this year. He is in the best shape he ever was at the start of the campaign.

Leslie Mann is the champion whistler of the National league. He whistles all the time, except when he is asleep or has his mouth full of food.

Lee Magee is doing much better for the Yanks this year than last. Of the players on the club, he has improved most over the work now recorded with 1916's history.

The reason for Brick Eldred's release may be ascribed to a desire of President Comiskey to send this speed merchant where he will develop by being regularly in the game.

New players, new managers and a determined fighting spirit among club leaders are the things President Hickey believes, that will make the pennant struggle one of the hardest in the history of the American association.

For the City Beautiful.

"Why did you give that awful-looking tramp a dime?" "Oh, merely as a small contribution towards city improvement. He wanted it for carfare to the next town."

The Cook Is Known by her Kitchen

A clean kitchen is the sign of a good cook. And a kitchen that keeps clean without constant drudgery is the sign of an up-to-date cook—one who uses the New Perfection Oil Cook Stove.

No coal-bod or ash-pan drudgery. You never have to sweep up after cooking on the New Perfection. Cooks fast or slow as you like, without soot or ashes. It's the Long Blue Chimney that does it. Visible flame that stays "put."

In use in more than 2,500,000 homes. Ask your dealer for booklet. Inquire, too, about the New Perfection Kerosene Water Heater. It gives abundant hot water for laundry or bath at low cost.

For best results use SOGOY Kerosene.

SEVEN SKINS GOT MAX IN TROUBLE

Max Kantrowitz, 34 years old, was arrested on Tuesday evening by Officer John G. Boyd, on a warrant sworn out by Jacob Forst of Abel street, who accused Max of stealing seven lamb skins from his warehouse on Abel street. Max was arraigned before Recorder Lang this morning and entered a plea of not guilty and the case was adjourned until next Wednesday morning. Bail was fixed at $200 by Recorder Lang and was furnished by Max. His bondsman was Louis Avenet of lower Broadway. Max explained to the court that he had bought the seven lamb skins from another man who said he had got them from a friend in the country. He had paid the man $4.70 apiece for them and had sold them to another Hebrew for a profit of about $1.60 on each skin.

PROF. AMOS S. HERSEY
FIVE-MINUTE TALKS BY NATIONAL LEADERS.
BY PROFESSOR AMOS S. HERSEY.
(Of Indiana University.)

An alliance with Great Britain would make much easier the preservation of our liberties and vital interests and the development of our national policies in America as well as in Europe and the Far East.

The British Empire is largely a confederacy of free peoples with sentiments and institutions similar to our own, and, except in certain matters of trade, our mutual interests are not seriously antagonistic.

Where such interests do conflict, as perhaps in Latin America, they are readily capable of compromise or adjustment.

The fundamental mutual interests of both the British Empire and the United States are those usually designated in our presidential campaign as "peace and prosperity."

In the main, both peoples are materialistic and utilitarian. In both countries no stirring emotion comes more force than those of the "fun dinner party" and national security with a view to the enjoyment of "the comforts of home."

War is generally regarded by the Anglo-Saxon world not merely as a useless survival of a barbaric past, but as a rule an unwelcome disturbance of business, of games, and of all the other peaceful vocations and avocations in which our citizens as well as British subjects delight.

Another mutual and perhaps sentimental (though no less vital) interest is that described by such terms or phrases as democracy, the right of self-government, western liberalism, the political and economic freedom of the individual (including the emancipation of women), etc.

If we desire the triumph of such ideals over Prussian militarism, autocracy and organization, the best way would seem to be to form an alliance with the British Empire and act in conjunction with the newly awakened democracies of Russia and China, as well as with the older democracies of France and Italy.

Wedding Presents in Hungary.

Wedding presents in Hungary are given only to poor couples to help them to get their home together. Tin girl friends of the bride show attention by making cakes of various kinds to be partaken of at the wedding feast. There is no wedding cake, as we understand it, but each guest receives a kind of sweet cake of the substance of cracked biscuits made in the form of a ring about ten inches in diameter.

Locates Well Trouble.

When a 1,400-foot well in a western town was yielding impure water, the superintendent of the water works wondered how he could locate the trouble. The trouble was located at a depth of 110 feet, where loose packing permitted surface water to enter.

GOLD MEDAL WILL BE GIVEN JOFFRE

Newburgh to Have Great Holiday in Honor of French War Commission on Friday—Company M to Serve as Military Escort for Visitors.

When Marshal Joffre visits Newburgh on Friday he will be greeted by Governor Whitman and state officials and the city, through a committee of which Frederick W. Wilson is the head, will present the distinguished Frenchman with a medallion as a souvenir of the occasion. Subscriptions are now being given in Newburgh for the gift. It will be a medallion 2 1/2 inches in diameter, 18 karat solid gold. On one side, in the center, will be a representation of Washington Headquarters in relief. Around this will be the words "Washington—Lafayette—Joffre—1782—1824—1917." The dates refer to the first occupancy of the historic house by Washington, the year of Gen. Lafayette's visit there and the present occasion when the old town is honored by the presence of Lafayette's illustrious compatriot and equally valiant champion of the cause of democracy, liberty and independence. The edge will be milled.

The obverse of the medallion will bear the following inscription:
Presented to
JOSEPH JACQUES CÉSAR JOFFRE
Marshal of France
by the
Citizens and Schoolchildren
City of Newburgh, N. Y.
as a Memento of His Visit
May 11, 1917.

The medal will be contained in a handsome leather case, so arranged that the velvet "leaf" in which it is inserted will be hinged, so that both sides can be read without removing it. On the front of the case will be a gold plate bearing the American and French flags beautifully enamelled in colors, and underneath the name of the recipient.

Mayor Wilson has declared a general holiday in honor of the visit of the French War Commission and elaborate decorations will be spread throughout the town. The French Commission will arrive about 11:40 a. m. and school children and citizens will take part in a program of exercises on the grounds at Washington's Headquarters.

Orders have been received for Company M, Tenth regiment, of this city to act as a part of the escort of honor for Marshal Joffre on Friday.

In Mr. Elting's charge are all the plans prepared by the committee which has been in instant readiness to act upon instructions from the adjutant general's office at Albany. Those instructions have been held up until congress passes the conscription bill and the federal enrollment for military service is out of the way.

EGG PRODUCTION DEPENDS MUCH ON FEED

PRIZE-WINNING WHITE WYANDOTTES.

Systematic feeding is just as necessary in the poultry yard as it is in the steer pen or hog lot. G. W. Hervey of the Missouri college of agriculture, gives the following hints which may help relieve the egg shortage:

Grain for chickens should be clean and free from mold. Moldy grain will often cause death or result in any one of the several diseases common to the digestive tract. Birds affected become weak and inactive and often manifest an intense thirst.

There is always danger of under-feeding. The birds should go on the roosts at night with crops well filled. Only a little grain need be scattered in the straw litter each morning to induce exercise during the day. The total amount of grain to be supplied daily will depend largely upon the palatability of the dry mash which is fed as an adjunct to the grain ration and also the housing facilities. If the dry mash is not relished or if none is fed at all, a greater amount of grain is required to satisfy the appetite of the birds and at the same time they cannot utilize the feed efficiently for production purposes. When insufficient protection is given, especially during the winter months, by undue exposure of houses or by allowing draughts, more grain is required to keep up the body heat.

It is questionable whether chickens may be overfed. An improper balance, however, between mash and grain will often result in an excessive deposition of fat, so much in fact that the function of the reproductive organs is interfered with and the bird does not lay. It is believed that laying hens should eat half as much mash as they do grain but experience, based on year-round feeding, shows that the dry mash consumption is only about one-third of the total ration. A wet mash consisting of bran and sour milk may be fed two or three times weekly during the late summer and during the winter as an appetizer, and in this way the total amount of mash eaten may be increased.

The dry mash fed in the University of Missouri pens consists of equal parts by weight of grain, shorts, cornmeal and meat scrap. If sour milk is given the meat is not necessary. This mash admits easy mixing, is bulky and has a sufficient protein content of an animal source to make it practical for production. This mash may be fed in a self-feeding hopper to which the birds have free access. If fed in this manner they will, to a large degree, gauge their own ration, and at the same time considerably less labor is required than if the mash is thrown into troughs each morning.

RIGHT FEED FOR EGGS

Methods Employed at Nebraska University Farm.

Grain Thrown Into Deep Litter in Morning to Keep Fowls Busy Scratching—Electric Lights Found to Be Useful.

The following methods and feeds are used at the Nebraska university farm at Lincoln in connection with the poultry department:

During the winter months the birds receive as their first feed in the morning a scratch feed, such as follows: Two pounds of cracked corn, two pounds of kafir two pounds of wheat, two pounds of oats, one pound of barley. This is thrown into a deep litter and in such amounts as will keep the birds hungry and working for food throughout the morning.

About ten o'clock a feed of sprouted oats is given. Cabbage, mangels and green alfalfa are sometimes used in addition to this green feed, in small quantities, to offer variety.

At noon a very light feed of wet mash is given. It is made from the following mixture and mixed with skim milk: Two pounds of cornmeal feed, two pounds of bran, two pounds of white middlings, two pounds of ground oats, two pounds of meat scrap, two pounds of corn gluten feed. This is fed in troughs of sufficient length so that each bird has enough room.

About four o'clock in the afternoon a liberal feeding of grain is given. Special attention is paid to giving the birds all they want for the night feed.

The poultry-house is equipped with electric lights, which are turned on at five o'clock in the morning and again at four o'clock in the afternoon, and the birds thereby have a longer day in which to work. It has been found a paying investment to have lights in the house for the early morning and night feeds.

A dry mash, composed of the same ingredients and proportions as above mentioned for wet mash, is placed before the birds for free access. Grit, oyster shell and charcoal are also available in a hopper.

KEEP POULTRY HOUSE CLEAN

If Roosts, Nests, Etc., Are Made So That They Can Be Moved Cleaning Is Made Much Easier.

Keep the house clean at all times. If all the equipment, such as roosts, nests, etc., are made so that they can be easily removed, the cleaning will be made much easier. Use a good disinfectant around the roosts and nests occasionally, and whitewash the house thoroughly at least once a year.

A good house is a paying investment.

Nose for Business.

"Mrs. Sharpe is a woman of wonderful keen intuition, isn't she?" said Mrs. Gabby. "Oh, remarkably so," responded Mrs. Gabby. "Why, her husband says she can scent a bargain sale three days before it is advertised in the paper."

HABIT OF FEATHER PULLING

Generally Develops in Winter When Fowls Are Crowded Into Houses Too Small.

Feather pulling or eating may not be so bad as egg eating, but it is annoying, and is a habit with which most poultry keepers have more or less trouble. During the fall and winter, when birds are not getting sufficient exercise and are crowded into small houses, this habit is most likely to develop.

Such habits as egg and feather eating are usually the fault of the owner. When birds are not overcrowded in large flocks, and are forced to work all day for all the feed they get, it is seldom that either habit appears. As a rule, a feather-eating bird is a poor layer, and the quicker you can rid your flock of such a pest the better. One feather eater in a flock will cause no end of trouble, and in a few weeks will make all the birds show unsightly bare backs.

To stamp out the habit, get rid of the hen that is causing the trouble, supply the flock with plenty of animal matter, such as meat and green-cut bone, make the birds exercise after all the food they get.

As a treatment, apply an ointment of some bitter mixture—quinine or aloes mixed with lard will do the work. A solution made by boiling tobacco in water will be found satisfactory. The feather-eating bird will quit after one or two of these bitter doses.

GREEN FEEDING IN WINTER

Experience in North American Contest Disproves Idea That Succulent Feed Is Necessary.

A great deal of stress has been laid on succulent green feeds as an important part of an egg ration, but the experience in the North American egg-laying contest seems rather to disprove that idea. No green feed is furnished except that which grows in the yards during the summer, yet the winter laying has been very satisfactory. In a supplementary test the poorest laying pen consumed the most green feed and the highest laying pen the least. There is no doubt that green feed is good for poultry. The question is whether it is essential to heavy egg production in winter, and the experiments tend to prove that it is not. The reason hens that consume a great deal of bulky, green feed do not lay as well as those that eat more concentrated feed is easily seen. Because of its bulk the green feed fills up and satisfies, but does not contain the high percentage of nutrients that dry feeds do. In order to become high-power layers, hens must have high-power feed, so unless the bulky, green feed is supplemented by highly concentrated feeds, having the food elements that green feed lacks, it will not furnish the excess of nutriment that is needed to make eggs.

TARIFF INCREASE FOR WAR REVENUE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, May 9.—Final decision of the house ways and means committee to include a ten per cent tariff increase in the war revenue bill made it possible to report today a measure calculated to raise during the coming year the full $1,800,000,000 asked by Secretary McAdoo.

The last minute action of the house committee does away with the free list of the Underwood tariff law. Besides including a horizontal increase of ten per cent on all existing tariff rates, the bill places an import tax of ten per cent on all articles now admitted free. All the other levies will be raised by internal taxes. It is estimated that the changed tariff rates will bring in $240,000,000.

Chairman Kitchin plans to bring the bill up for consideration tomorrow. General debate of the measure will continue at least through this week so that the bill will not pass the lower house before next week. The measure has been brought out of committee only after prolonged controversy and dissension. So wide have been the breaches that the prediction has been freely made that the bill is due to be rewritten altogether by the senate. No hearings were held by the house already the senate finance committee has announced that it will begin hearings on the measure Friday. The principal fight in committee was over excess profits. After having considered rates all the way from 8 to 20 per cent, sixteen per cent finally was agreed upon. The income tax is made retroactive for the calendar year 1916. In addition to the income tax already levied and paid on incomes the committee decided upon an additional levy of 33 1/3 per cent. This retroactive tax is payable next September and embraces all taxable incomes for 1916.

The exemptions are materially lowered for the levy of income taxes. The exemption for married taxpayers is lowered from $2,000 to $1,500 while the exemption for married persons is reduced from $4,000 to $2,000. The super-taxes begin at $5,000, ranging from 1 per cent to 33 per cent on net income exceeding $500,000.

New taxes on inheritances are levied all the way from one half to one per cent on net estates not in excess of $50,000 to 15 per cent on inheritances exceeding $15,000,000. The postal rate for letters is increased from two to three cents while the rate for postcards is doubled. Postal rates on newspapers and other second class mail matter hereafter will be levied through a zone system. The rates will range from two cents to six cents per pound, according to the zone.

The committee after many revisions determined upon a whiskey tax of $1.20 per gallon with the beer assessment at $2.75 a barrel. This is an increase from present rates of $1.10 and $1.50 respectively. Five per cent taxes are levied against local telephone calls, transportation of oil by pipe line, electric power furnished for heating or domestic purposes, yachts, pleasure boats, automobiles, sporting goods, motor cycles, jewelry, musical instruments, proprietary medicines and cosmetics.

Railroad tickets and express shipments are each assessed ten per cent. The tobacco tax is greatly increased. A graduated tax on cigars ranging from 50 cents to $10 a thousand. Cigarettes either foreign or domestic will be taxed $1.25 a thousand if weighing less than three pounds and $3.50 if more than three pounds.

Besides a ten per cent tax on all amusements there is a special levy of half a cent to a cent on each foot of moving picture film. The stamp taxes of the Spanish war are revived and increased.

IN NEED OF YARN AND OF KNITTERS

Our Men and Women Can Help Provide Warm Clothing for Crews of Submarines. Men With Money and Women With Needles.

Editor of The Freeman:

Dear Sir—May we beg a little space in your paper in order to make an appeal to the men of Kingston as well as to the women, for money and knitters? The New York and Washington newspapers have several times published the story of the great need of warm clothing among the men of the navy, especially of the crews of the submarines. So far, the government has not provided any special uniform for the submarine men and they are actually suffering. The Comforts Committee of the Navy League in Washington is trying to fill this need and we women of Kingston are offering a portion. While we are much pleased with the work already done, we need many more volunteers among the women who will pay for the yarn that they knit. But there are also many women who are willing to knit who cannot afford to pay for the yarn. So we are making this appeal to the men for money. We will accept any sum, no matter how large nor how small. One of the motives in Washington League rooms is: "We women will knit up all the yarn that you men will pay for." The Kingston women will do likewise. The need is great.

GIVE LAURELS TO LAWSUIT VICTORS

Mr. Brinnier Puts Riffon Corporation Counsel Crown From Him and Same is Bestowed on Mayor Canfield Who May Oppose His Own Briefs.

The remarkable changes in government in Europe caused by the war and revolutions there had their counter part in the government of the village of Riffon Tuesday night when Mayor Palmer Canfield, Jr., of this city was—was not, according to future legal interpretation—elected counsel for the village.

At the meeting held last Saturday night, which has been already described in The Freeman, Alfred D. Van Buren, who had represented the village for several years and in the Carter law suit, in which a $2,000 verdict was rendered against it, announced that if he was no longer desired by the village board of trustees as counsel, he would resign, but that he would continue to appear for the village inasmuch as the suit brought against the village by Dr. William Kemble was on the calendar of the term of court which began Monday.

Mr. Brinnier in Chair.

Corporation Counsel William D. Brinnier, who appeared for Village Trustees Richard Terpening and George W. Fowler, acted as chairman in putting a motion to continue Mr. Van Buren, which was lost by a tie vote of the two trustees present, and lost by a vote of the eight residents of Riffon present. Mr. Van Buren announced his resignation as village attorney but stated he would continue to act in order to protect the interests of the village in the Kemble case during the May term of court, and also to represent the village in the Carter case until he had submitted to Judge Hasbrouck an additional brief on the motion to set aside the verdict in the Carter case. In the trial of which it will be recalled, City Judge William D. Brinnier, Jr., had been attorney for Miss Carter, with Mayor Canfield of counsel on the argument for a non-suit.

Mayor Canfield and Mr. Van Buren were present at Tuesday night's meeting, which was attended by about twenty-five residents of Riffon. Mr. Fowler, who has removed to Connecticut, where he is employed in a munition factory, was present, having come from his work to attend the meeting. President Davidson presided but declined to recognize Mr. Fowler as a trustee on account of his removal. It is claimed by the Terpening-Fowler faction that Mr. Fowler's residence in Connecticut is temporary and that he is still qualified to act as a trustee of the village.

On motion that Miss Annie Devine be elected village clerk in place of Mrs. Davidson, the wife of the village president, Messrs. Terpening and Fowler voted in favor of the motion and President Davidson voted against it. President Davidson declined to recognize Mr. Fowler as qualified to vote on account of his removal from Riffon and declared the motion lost. A demand was made on Mrs. Davidson to turn over the records to Miss Devine.

Mayor is Eulogized.

On motion to employ Mayor Canfield as counsel, Mr. Van Buren made a speech eulogizing the mayor for his ability and other qualities which made him regard him highly personally. Mr. Van Buren referred to the recent Carter case, and said that it seemed improper for the trustees to elect as counsel, while the Carter case was still pending before Judge Hasbrouck, the attorney who had made the argument against the village's motion for a non-suit. The vote to employ Mayor Canfield was the same as that to employ Miss Devine as clerk.

Mayor Canfield, in accepting election, said it was his desire to smooth out all complications and to place the village board on an efficient basis.

Afterward speeches were made by a number of those present, most of the speakers criticizing President Davidson's administration, and claiming that $700 had been expended on the order of the president without audit by the board of trustees.

As the new village counsel, residents of Riffon expect that Mayor Canfield will prosecute vigorously the briefs to be filed on the motion to set aside the verdict in the Carter case.

W. J. SAUNDERS.

Washington, May 9.—William L. Saunders, head of the Naval Consulting Board, announces that a device has been tried out by the navy experts which will meet the present submarine peril and render the underwater vessels harmless. His faith in the invention is not shared by his fellow members, who claim that if such a device has been invented they are ignorant of the fact. They admit, however, that it is possible that Mr. Saunders is in possession of more information on the subject than they are.

ENVOYS HONORED IN PHILADELPHIA

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Philadelphia, May 9.—Philadelphia, the birthplace of American independence, greeted Marshal Joseph Joffre, Rene Viviani and the French war mission with open arms today. Thousands were packed about Broad Street Station and lined the streets when the visitors reached here shortly after 9 o'clock for a few hours stay.

Mayor Smith, on behalf of the city presented the hero of the Marne with a gold-encircled marshal's baton, cut from the wood of a rafter of historical independence Hall within an hour after his arrival.

From the station the visitors were taken to the famous "Cradle of Independence," where the mayor welcomed them. Tears stood in the eyes of the aged soldier as he accepted the gift and responded:

"In this hall of independence from whence the declaration of liberty and freedom was first proclaimed, I give you the greeting of the French army. The soldiers of France will be gratified when I show them your precious gift. They already are overjoyed at being united in a common cause with the soldiers of America."

M. Viviani expressed his thanks to the city for the welcome.

"It has never been the good fortune of Frenchmen to perform a more pleasant mission than this one to America," he said. "It is an honor to be received in this temple of independence, where the doctrine of human rights and liberty was first proclaimed to all the world."

Before leaving Independence Hall, Marshal Joffre and M. Viviani kissed the historical liberty bell, which first pealed forth to the world the challenge of democracy. The marshal was much interested in all the relics of the Revolution.

Educational institutions were thrown wide open to honor the visitors. Three thousand girls were lined up to welcome them in Seventeenth street and before the William Penn Mansion, 10,000 school tots shouted their greetings. Girard College gave them an impromptu reception and the University of Pennsylvania conferred the degree of Doctor of Laws on M. Viviani. A military review and public reception was held on Franklin Field.

From the reception the envoys were conducted to the Bellevue Stratford, where a luncheon was given in their honor by Mayor Smith.

ULSTER COUNTY'S C. E. CONVENTION

Wallkill Gathering is 25th Annual and Promises to be Most Interesting—Many Speakers on Program for May 21-22.

The twenty-fifth annual convention of the Ulster County Christian Endeavor Union which is to be held at Wallkill May 21-22, promises to be the most interesting and inspiring one ever held. The theme will be, "Preparedness." The convention will be opened at four o'clock on Monday afternoon by the county president, the Rev. George Hamilton Scofield, Ph. D., of Highland. The Rev. R. P. Ingersoll of Saugerties, an efficient leader, will conduct the music of the convention. Mrs. James L. Brydie of New York will have charge of the Junior work. One of the unique features of the Monday evening session will be a "C. E. Quilting Party" conducted by Dr. E. K. Lee of Kingston, in which twenty young ladies will participate. The main address will be given by the Rev. Dr. F. G. Coffin of Albany, the president of the state union.

A patriotic preparedness parade in which various organizations of Wallkill are to co-operate will be a striking opening to the second day of the convention. The line of march will form at 8 a. m. The delegates will convene again at the Reformed Church at nine o'clock for the morning session. A dollar pie will be baked by the Rev. A. S. Cole. Greetings from the Sunrise Kingdom will be brought by the Rev. L. R. Shaefer. The annual report will be given by District Secretary Luther Wilkoff. A school of methods will be conducted by the Rev. Herbert Jones.

An open air service will be held after a visit to the commissary department. At the afternoon session hot shots at the enemy will be aimed by W. W. Brady, Jr. The experts will be awarded their diplomas. Field Secretary Harold A. Waite will close the convention with an address and conference.

The Ulster County Union is composed of more than two thousand members in over forty societies. Delegates desiring entertainment are requested to send their names to Miss Mina Williams, Wallkill, N. Y.

Crew of Sebastian Saved.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Newport, R. I., May 9.—A wireless dispatch received at the naval station reported that the crew of the British steamship Sebastian, which was reported on fire off Nantucket Shoals last night, has been saved by the U. S. S. Sacramento. Unofficial advice is that the liner was lost.

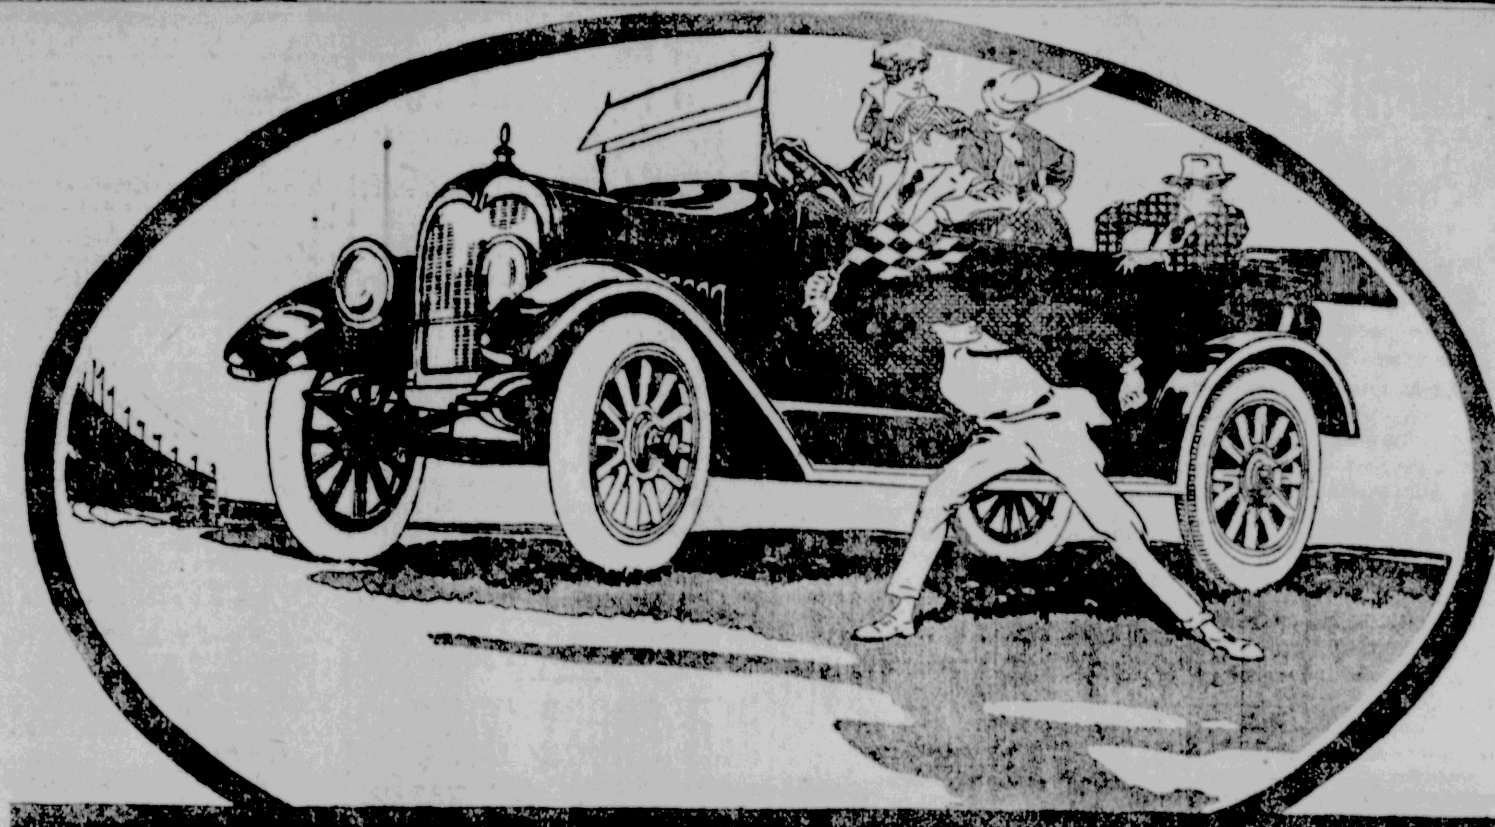

All in the Dialect.

A New Zealand man vouches for the truth of the following story:
Dick Seddon was of Lancashire origin, and when he died the Lancastrian society in New Zealand sent a wreath with the following inscription: "I have gone whom." The journalist who reported the funeral evidently did not come from Lancashire and consequently was somewhat puzzled by the wording and, after thinking hard, concluded that some one had blundered. His report read:
"The Lancastrian society sent a beautiful wreath bearing the inscription: 'I have gone. Who am I?'"

The Real Greatness of the Maxwell Is in Its Perfected Mechanism

Mechanical perfection has made the Maxwell endurance champion of the world—the most economical car to run—a source of complete satisfaction to 200,000 Maxwell Owners.

Let's consider the Maxwell first as a piece of machinery, —for that's what a real automobile is—a machine. Fancy upholstery, enamel, a highly polished instrument board are excellent things, —but they don't make a great motor car. Motor-car merit depends, first, last and always, on mechanical construction. —on the parts that are hidden from your view. The Maxwell has grace of form and line—travels easily—is roomy and comfortable, —a novice knows that—it's obvious. But, let us pick the car to pieces and see what you actually get for your money.

The Sturdy, Masterful Chassis

In the first place, there is one—and only one—Maxwell chassis. —and that chassis not an experiment, —not the whim of some designer who craves a reputation to be different or original. Nobody is permitted to tinker with that one Maxwell model, —no smart ideas are allowed to swerve it from its course of development, refinement, perfection along the known, proved, time-tried principles of automobile construction.

The Maxwell Engine is the Embodiment of Efficiency and Power

The Maxwell engine is the concrete manifestation of efficiency and power brought up to an almost unbelievable point of perfection. It has much of the velvety smoothness characteristic of the motors in high-priced cars. —plus power, economy, reliability and simplicity.

LEGEND OF SALT RIVER.

The Stream is a Really Historic One Flowing in Kentucky.

The people of the United States have always been prone and quick to catch a happy or unhappy remark or phrase in politics and to make the most of it. Once, a long time ago, a defeated office seeker in order to "get himself together" left home as soon as he became aware of the result at the polls. A friend, inquiring for him a little later, was informed by a member of his family that he had gone up Salt river.

Salt river was and is a modest little stream that rises in the hill country of Kentucky and after flowing through a more or less picturesque district for about a score of miles empties into the Ohio. It was in those days a good fishing creek and the kind of stream a jaded and disappointed politician might naturally fancy. There was not a thing wrong about his excursion. Yet his political enemies got hold of the remark that he had "gone up Salt river" and used it to imply that this meant the end of his public career.

The saying spread from Kentucky into other states, and for more than half a century it has been used to express the idea that a politician has been "driven to the woods" for good. "He's gone up Salt river" has come to mean, in fact, that a politician has "been put out of business," has been so badly beaten that he cannot "come back" and "has seen his finish,"—Christian Science Monitor.

About 12 per cent of the volume of the ordinary tree is bark, and little use has heretofore been made of bark except as a source of tanning extract. Recent investigations resulted in the development of a process by which spent bark can be profitably used in the manufacture of asphalt shingles, thereby materially increasing the value of this bark.

Fish of the Hawaiian Islands.

The fish of the Hawaiian Islands were first officially recorded as early as 1725 by Broussonet from specimens obtained during Captain Cook's third voyage to the islands. In 1903 the United States fish commission described 902 species of fish belonging to the region of the Hawaiian Islands, including a large number of the giant mackerels, such as the swordfish, tuna, oceanic bonito and albacore. With such available and authentic records it is surprising that Hawaii is only coming into its own as one of the world's greatest game fish resorts.

STATE SENATE PASSES BILLS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, May 9.—The senate in an all-night session passed nearly 100 bills, many of them of state-wide importance. They include:

By Senator Sage, an act creating a commission to assure adequate food supply and appropriating $500,000 and directing the controller to advance to the commission for use in making purchases and distribution, such sums as the commission may request.

Senator Sage establishing a secret service in the office of the attorney general by appropriating $50,000 for the expense of inquiries into matters concerning public peace, public safety and other war emergencies. This bill has passed the assembly and now goes to the governor.

By Assemblyman Davis, an act for war relief by providing that during a state of war any state department or official may loan to the United States or state governments or any relief body such accommodations or supplies of the institution including labor of inmates or employees.

By Assemblyman Everett amending the penal law by prohibiting the sale of tobacco or cigarettes to children under 18 instead of 16 as now provided.

RABBI ASKS DETAILS.

Would Like Bill of Particulars From Dr. Leeper.

To the Editor of The Kingston Daily Freeman.

Dear Sir: In the issue of your valued publication of the 8th inst., there appeared a report of the proceedings taken in the supreme court Monday when the matter of the application for naturalization of I. O. Feldstein came up. The report stated that Dr. J. L. Leeper had made the charge that Feldstein had been sentenced by a secret Jewish organization of this city. I am anxious to ascertain all the facts and would therefore respectfully ask that Dr. Leeper give me through the columns of your paper, the name of the organization, the place where it meets, and if possible, the names and addresses of some of its officers and members. Thanking you for the use of your column, I remain,

Yours respectfully,

THAW HELD
IN PENNSYLVANIA

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 9.—Gov. error Brumbaugh today refused to turn over Harry K. Thaw to the New York authorities. Upon the advice of Attorney General Brown, the governor took the position that Thaw is now under the jurisdiction of the Pennsylvania courts, a committee having been named to look after his affairs. A lengthy opinion by the attorney general is supplemented by a statement by the governor in which he says:

"I feel constrained under the present circumstances to refuse to order the rendition of Harry K. Thaw to the authorities of New York. I desire to add, however, following the suggestions of the attorney general, that if at any time he be discharged from the custody of his committee and from the jurisdiction of the Pennsylvania courts, the committee will promptly honor."

Thaw is wanted in New York to answer criminal charges brought against him by Frederick Gump, Jr.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES.

The Stryker-Youmans Company sold and delivered a handsome Mitchell Six, seven passenger touring car yesterday to W. F. Brady of Cocksackie.

The State Automobile Association has issued a warning against the practice of some motorists who turn their headlights on guardmen on their posts at bridges and railroad structures. The motorists are warning over whether the spotlight may not make the sentry an easy target for nocturnal prowlers bent on mischief.

Savings Banks Let Alone.

Governor Whitman has stated that he has received several requests from Secretary McAdoo for legislation to enable savings banks to subscribe to the war loan. To each request the governor replied that Superintendent of Banks Eugene Lamb had advised against such a step, as the savings banks were all opposed to it. So heavy were the demands of the depositors for withdrawals of funds for investment direct in the patriotic loan and so urgent were the demands of the farmers of New York state that additional federal demands would have been seriously embarrassing to the saving banks.

The Flag on Exhibition.

The big flag to be purchased through the Dorothy Freeman Flag Fund is on exhibition in the windows of Warren's sporting goods store on Fair street and is attracting a great deal of attention. The flag is one of the largest in the city and completely encloses the big window of the store.

The fund for the purchase of the flag is growing rapidly and within a short time the fund will assume the proportions that not only will the purchase of the flag but also the pole be assured. The pole will be erected upon the old Academy Green and the flag unfurled to the breeze with appropriate ceremonies.

SEED POTATOES TO BE $2.90 A BUSHEL

Manager of the Farm Bureau W. H. Hook received word Tuesday night that the carload of seed potatoes ordered for distribution among Ulster county farmers and the bill for same is already in the hands of the committee. It is figured that the charge per bushel to the farmers contracting for these potatoes will be $2.90 instead of $3.50 as was at first estimated. The potatoes are due to arrive in Kingston the latter part of this week.

There will be nearly 700 bushels to distribute and those desiring to contract for seed potatoes at the above figures are urged to get their contracts in as early as possible.

RED CROSS WINS
SUPPORT OF MANY

One correction should be made as to contributions. Yesterday's list reported $5 from the Livingston Street Lutheran Church, and it should have been from the Spring Street German Lutheran Church.

CARLSTROM KILLED
AT NEWPORT NEWS

Famous Aviator and Student He Was

Instructing Instantly Killed When Machine Collapsed During Lesson.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Newport News, Va., May 9.—Victor Carlstrom, one of the foremost aviators of the country, and a student to whom he was giving instructions, were instantly killed here this afternoon when their machine collapsed.

The second victim was Cary G. Eeles of this city. The accident happened at the Curtiss aviation school, where Carlstrom was an instructor. The cause of the accident could not be learned.

Carlstrom's machine had been up about half an hour when the accident happened. It is supposed that the buffeting of the strong wind loosened one of the wire guys of the planes, causing the collapse. The machine fell more than 1,000 feet like a shot near the race track just outside the city. Hundreds of persons witnessed the fall.

LAWS OF NEW YORK—By Authority.

CHAP. 25.
AN ACT to amend the village law, in relation to report to state tax commission of incorporation of villages.

Became a law March 1, 1917, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section twenty-two of chapter sixty-four of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act relating to villages, constituting chapter sixty-four of the consolidated laws," is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 2. Report of incorporation. After ten and within fifteen days from the filing of the certificate of election, if no appeal has been taken, or within fifteen days after the filing of a final decision sustaining the election, the town clerk with whom such certificate is filed shall deliver a certified copy thereof to the secretary of state, tax commission and to the county clerk of each county in which any part of such village is situated, together with a statement of the population of such village as it appears by the proposition for incorporation.

Section 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

State of New York, Office of the Secretary of State.

I have compared the preceding with the original law on file in this office, and do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript thereof and of the whole of said original law.

FRANCIS M. HUGO, Secretary of State.

CHAP. 26.
AN ACT to amend the canal law, in relation to the appointment of a canal traffic agent by the superintendent of public works.

Became a law March 1, 1917, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Chapter thirteen of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act relating to canals, constituting chapter five of the consolidated laws," is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 2. The superintendent of public works shall appoint a canal traffic agent whose duty it shall be, under his direction, to collect and tabulate information and data relative to canal transportation, transportation of freight and passengers, and rates and transportation costs to and from points beyond the limits of the canal system, and to report the same to the superintendent of public works.

Section 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

State of New York, Office of the Secretary of State.

I have compared the preceding with the original law on file in this office, and do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript thereof and of the whole of said original law.

FRANCIS M. HUGO, Secretary of State.

CHAP. 27.
AN ACT to amend the village law, in relation to information to be furnished state tax commission by local officers for the assessment of special franchises.

Became a law March 1, 1917, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Subdivision twenty-five of section eighty-nine of chapter sixty-four of the laws of nineteen hundred and sixteen, entitled "An act relating to villages, constituting chapter sixty-four of the consolidated laws," as amended by chapter thirty-four of the laws of nineteen hundred and sixteen, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 2. Disposition of garbage and ashes. A. May provide for the removal from the building of any law changing the disposition of swill, garbage, ashes and rubbish, or the disposal of such refuse, through the employees of said village or by contracting with other persons, provided, however, that authority shall be first obtained from the village board, and that the maximum amount to be expended for such purpose or purposes in any one year shall not exceed five per centum of the assessed value of the real property of the village.

Section 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

State of New York, Office of the Secretary of State.

I have compared the preceding with the original law on file in this office, and do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript thereof and of the whole of said original law.

FRANCIS M. HUGO, Secretary of State.

CHAP. 28.
AN ACT to amend the tax law, generally.

Became a law March 3, 1917, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section forty-eight of chapter sixty-two of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act in relation to taxation, constituting chapter sixty-two of the consolidated laws," as amended by chapter five hundred and eighty-one of the laws of nineteen hundred and sixteen, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 2. Deduction from special franchise tax for local purposes. If, when the tax assessed on any special franchise is due and payable under this article, the owner or possessor of such franchise is a corporation, partnership, association or corporation, he shall be entitled to a deduction from the tax assessed on such franchise of the amount of the tax assessed on such franchise for local purposes, as assessed by the local officers of the city, town or village in which the tangible property is located, in which the assessment made by the local officers of the city, town or village is a correct transcript thereof and of the whole of said original law.

Section 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

State of New York, Office of the Secretary of State.

I have compared the preceding with the original law on file in this office, and do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript thereof and of the whole of said original law.

FRANCIS M. HUGO, Secretary of State.

CHAP. 29.
AN ACT to amend the village law, in relation to qualification of judges by reason of interest or consanguinity.

Became a law March 1, 1917, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section fifteen of article two of chapter thirty-five of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act in relation to the administration of justice, constituting chapter thirty-five of the consolidated laws," is hereby amended to read as follows:

shall not sit as such in, or take any part in the decision of, a cause or matter to which he is a party, or in which he has been attorney or counsel, or in which he has been interested, or in which he is related by consanguinity, or affinity to any party to the controversy within the sixth degree. The degree shall be ascertained by ascending from the judge to the common ancestor, and descending to the party, counting a degree for each person in both lines, including the judge and party, and excluding the common ancestor. But a judge of the court of appeals, or a justice of the appellate division of the supreme court, or a justice of the supreme court sitting in an appellate term thereof, shall not be disqualified from taking part in the decision of an action or special proceeding in which an insurance company is a party or is interested, by reason of his being a policyholder therein.

Section 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

State of New York, Office of the Secretary of State.

I have compared the preceding with the original law on file in this office, and do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript thereof and of the whole of said original law.

FRANCIS M. HUGO, Secretary of State.

CHAP. 30.
LAWS OF NEW YORK—By Authority.

AN ACT defining the employment of Daniel McCarthy as a guard in Sing Sing state prison on the twenty-second day of June, nineteen hundred and sixteen, and declaring the effect thereof.

Became a law March 1, 1917, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The employment of Daniel McCarthy as a guard in Sing Sing state prison on the twenty-second day of June, nineteen hundred and sixteen, is hereby declared to be a lawful employment under the provisions of the workmen's compensation law, notwithstanding the definitions of the term "employee" contained in said law.

Section 2. Such award shall be certified by the industrial commission to the superintendent of state prisons, and shall be payable from the capital fund of the state, in subdivision five of section three of such law, and the state hereby assumes any liability that would have accrued had this been a lawful employment, and shall be notified of any claim on account of such liability by the industrial commission, as provided by section eighteen of the workmen's compensation law.

Section 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

State of New York, Office of the Secretary of State.

I have compared the preceding with the original law on file in this office, and do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript thereof and of the whole of said original law.

FRANCIS M. HUGO, Secretary of State.

CLEVELAND OWNER HOPEFUL OF A WINNER

MANAGER FOHL AND THREE INDIAN STARS.

"The best ball club in the world," is the way James C. Dunn, owner of the Cleveland Indians, refers to his players this season. The club, he says, is 30 per cent stronger than in 1916.

"Cleveland will be a strong contender for the championship from the start," Dunn said. "I am tickled to death with the whole combination. We have a fine set of players and great harmony combined."

"Morton is, apparently, as good as ever, and everybody feels that Joe Wood is due for a comeback. Chapman is a different ball player from what he was a year ago. He looks like the Chapman of 1915."

TRIS A SPARK PLUG

They are calling Tris Speaker the spark plug of the Cleveland Indians. Bobby Roth says Speaker displays so much ginger that he simply makes everything play better ball.

"The improvement I have shown since I played with Cleveland I owe to Speaker more than anybody else," Bobby said. "After watching him a few minutes you seem to say to yourself, 'Get a move on you, old boy!'"

MAX CAREY AS BALL LAWYER

Outfielder of Pittsburgh Pirates Discovers That There is One Thing and Practice Another.

Max Carey of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who first directed his career toward preaching the Gospel, decided during the past winter to add to his ministerial studies a course in law as it relates to baseball contracts. As a result he reached the conclusion that the reserve clause was a mere scrap of paper and he announced that he was a free agent from the Pittsburgh club. It mattered not that baseball authorities overruled him, Max was sure of his finding. Finally, however, he discovered that theory is one thing and practice another. He waived his claims to free agency and signed a contract with Pittsburgh, reported to the club and says all his energies are being bent toward asserting his claims to being one of the star outfielders of the game. It is well, for each man must stick to his last and Carey, all will agree, is a better ball player than he is a ball lawyer—even better, we take it, on the diamond than in the pulpit, for who ever would have heard of the Reverend Max Carey, while everybody knows and admires Outfielder Max Carey.—Sporting News.

NOTES of the DIAMOND

Big Jett Tesreau has rounded to form.

Evidently the Georgia Peach believes in spiked neutrality.

Rube Benton is the most backward pitcher on the Giant staff.

Steve Yerkes has been turned over to Indianapolis by the Cubs.

The American league race is over. Comiskey has picked a winner.

Hans Wagner would make a great sheriff. He would be there in a pinch.

The Indians will bear watching if Smokey Joe Wood is as good as he was in 1912.

If Connie Mack wants to get rid of Amos Strunk he will have no trouble in getting bids.

Walter Johnson is a cattle fancier and looks over the puredreds at every opportunity.

One difference between baseball and war is that war does not have to issue rain checks.

According to all reports, Zian Beck obtained by Milwaukee from the Cardinals, is playing a bang-up game.

The American league clubs are so evenly matched it looks like Col. IF will be the deciding factor in the race.

The Athletics are greatly improved and IF they can keep out of the cellar there's no telling where they might finish.

Sam Rice started his professional career as a pitcher, coming to the Nationals as twirler from the Virginia league.

Manager Rowland feels that his outfit of White Sox this year has a little better than an even chance to win the flag.

Big Jim Vaughan has made up his mind to make a record this year. He is in the best shape he ever was at the start of the campaign.

Leslie Mann is the champion whistler of the National league. He whistles all the time, except when he is asleep or has his mouth full of food.

Lee Magee is doing much better for the Yanks this year than last. Of the players on the club, he has improved most over the work now recorded with 1916's history.

The reason for Brick Einfeld's release may be ascribed to a desire of President Comiskey to send this speed merchant where he will develop by being regularly in the game.

New players, new managers and a determined fighting spirit among club leaders are the things, President Eickley believes, that will make the peasant struggle one of the hardest in the history of the American association.

For the City Beautiful. "Why did you give that awful-looking tramp a dime?" "Oh, merely as a small contribution towards city improvement. He wanted it for cartage to the next town."

GOLD MEDAL WILL BE GIVEN JOFFRE

Newburgh to Have Great Holiday in Honor of French War Commission on Friday—Company M to Receive Military Escort for Visitors

When Marshal Joffre visits Newburgh on Friday he will be greeted by Governor Whitman and state officials and will pass through a cortege of which Frederick W. Wilson is the head. The marshal will present the distinguished Frenchman with a medallion as a souvenir of the occasion. Subsequent to the gift being given to the marshal.

The medallion will be a gold medal 2 1/2 inches in diameter. It will be inscribed on one side with the words "Washington—May 11, 1917" and on the other side with the words "Joffre—1872—1917". The date refers to the first occupancy of the historic house by Washington the year on Gen. Lafayette's visit there and the present occasion when the old town is honored by the presence of Joffre, a illustrious companion and equally illustrious champion of the cause of democracy, liberty and independence. The edge will be inscribed with the following inscription:

Presented to
JOSEPH JACQUES JOFFRE
Marshal of France
by the

Citizens and Schoolchildren
City of Newburgh, N. Y.
as a Memorial of His Visit
May 11, 1917

The medallion will be contained in a handsome leather case so arranged that the velvet lining in which it is inserted will be hinged so that both sides can be read without removing it. On the front of the case will be a gold plate bearing the American and French flags beautifully enameled in colors and underneath the name of the recipient.

Mayor Wilson has declared a general holiday in honor of the visit of the French War Commission and elaborate decorations will be spread throughout the town. The French Commission will arrive about 11:40 a. m. and school children and citizens will take part in a program of exercises on the grounds at Washington Headquarters.

Orders have been received for Company M Tenth Regiment of this city to act as a part of the escort of honor for Marshal Joffre on Friday.

CENSUS DATA TURNED OVER

Major Chandler's Appointees Tender Resignation to Mr. Flint

Following the resignation of Major George Chandler as military census director, Abram Freeman, Rodney C. Osterhout and Jacob Truiper have tendered their resignations as members of that committee and turned over the census data which they have prepared to Philip Flint, the newly appointed census director. In Mr. Flint's charge are all the plans prepared by the committee which has been in instant readiness to accept instructions from the adjutant general's office at Albany. These instructions have been held up until congress passes the conscription bill and the federal enrollment for military service is out of the way.

EGG PRODUCTION DEPENDS MUCH ON FEED

PRIZE WINNING WHITE WYANDOTTES

Systematic feeding is just as necessary in the poultry yard as it is in the steer pen or hog lot. G. W. Hervey of the Missouri college of agriculture gives the following hints which may help relieve the egg shortage.

Grain for chickens should be clean and free from mold. Moldy grain will often cause death or result in any one of the several diseases common to the digestive tract. Birds affected by come vent and inactive and often manifest an intense thirst.

There is always danger of under-feeding and this should be on the minds of all who keep fowls. Only a little grain need be scattered in the straw litter each morning, to insure exercise during the day. The total amount of grain to be supplied daily will depend largely upon the palatability of the dry mash which is fed as an adjunct to the grain ration and also the housing facilities. If the dry mash is not relished or if none is fed at all, a greater amount of grain is required to satisfy the appetite of the birds and at the same time they cannot utilize the feed efficiently for production purposes. When healthful protection is given especially during the winter months by undisturbed exposure of hens to the sunlight, dry mash more palatable is required to keep up the body heat.

It is questionable whether chickens may be overfed. An improper balance however between mash and grain will often result in an excessive deposition of fat so much in fact that the function of the reproductive organs is interfered with and the bird does not lay. It is believed that laying hens should eat half as much mash as they do grain but experience based on year round feeding shows that the dry mash consumption is only about one-third of the total ration. A wet mash consisting of bran and sour milk may be fed two or three times weekly during the late summer and during the winter as an appetizer and in this way the total amount of mash eaten may be increased.

The dry mash fed in the University of Missouri pens consists of equal parts by weight of grain shorts, corn meal and meat scrap. If sour milk is given the meat is not necessary. This mash admits easy mixing is bulky and has a sufficient protein content of an animal source to make it practical for production. This mash may be fed in a self-feeding hopper to which the birds have free access. If fed in this manner they will to a large degree gauge their own ration and at the same time considerable less labor is required than if the mash is thrown into troughs each morning.

RIGHT FEED FOR EGGS

Methods Employed at Nebraska University Farm.

Grain Thrown Into Deep Litter in Morning to Keep Fowls Busy Scratching—Electric Lights Found to Be Useful

The following methods and feeds are used at the Nebraska University farm at Lincoln in connection with the poultry department.

During the winter months the birds receive their first feed in the morning a scratch feed such as follows: Two pounds of cracked corn two pounds of alfalfa two pounds of wheat two pounds of oats one pound of barley. This is thrown into a deep litter and in such amounts as will keep the birds busy and working for food through the morning.

At ten o'clock a feed of sprouted oats is given. Cabbage manure and a little alfalfa are sometimes used in addition to this green feed in small quantities to other varieties.

At noon a very light feed of wet mash is given. It is made from the following mixture and mixed with steam milk. Two pounds of corn meal two pounds of bran two pounds of white middling two pounds of ground oats two pounds of meal two pounds of cracked corn two pounds of alfalfa two pounds of wheat two pounds of oats one pound of barley. This is thrown into a deep litter and in such amounts as will keep the birds busy and working for food through the morning.

At four o'clock a feed of sprouted oats is given. Cabbage manure and a little alfalfa are sometimes used in addition to this green feed in small quantities to other varieties.

At noon a very light feed of wet mash is given. It is made from the following mixture and mixed with steam milk. Two pounds of corn meal two pounds of bran two pounds of white middling two pounds of ground oats two pounds of meal two pounds of cracked corn two pounds of alfalfa two pounds of wheat two pounds of oats one pound of barley. This is thrown into a deep litter and in such amounts as will keep the birds busy and working for food through the morning.

HABIT OF FEATHER PULLING

Generally Develops in Winter When Fowls Are Crowded into Houses Too Small

Feather pulling or eating may not be so bad as egg eating but it is an annoying and is a habit with which most poultry keepers have more or less trouble. During the fall and winter when birds are not getting sufficient exercise and are crowded into small houses this habit is most likely to develop.

Such habits as egg and feather eating are usually the fault of the owner. When birds are not overcrowded in large flocks and are forced to work all day for all the feed they get it is seldom that either habit appears. As a rule a feather eating bird is a poor layer and the quicker you can rid your flock of such a pest the better. One feather eater in a flock will ruin a good many and in a few weeks will make all the birds show unsightly bare backs.

To stamp out the habit get rid of the hen that is causing the trouble. Supply the flock with plenty of animal matter such as meat and green cut bone meal. The birds exercise after all the food they get.

As a treatment, apply an ointment of some butter mixture—quinine or lard mixed with hard will do the work. A solution made by boiling lard in water will be found satisfactory. The feather eating bird will quit after one or two of these better doses.

GOLD MEDAL WILL BE GIVEN JOFFRE

Newburgh to Have Great Holiday in Honor of French War Commission on Friday—A company M to Serve as Military Escort for Visitors

When Marshal Joffre visits Newburgh on Friday he will be greeted by Governor Whitman and state officials and the city through a cortège of which Frederick W. Wilson is the head will present the distinction of the city.

The occasion of the visit is a souvenir of the occasion. Subscriptions are now being given in Newburgh for the gift. It will be a medallion 2 1/2 inches in diameter 1 1/2 inch wide. On one side in the center will be a representation of Washington. The quarters in the relief around this will be the words "Washington— Lafayette—Joffre—1783—1824—1917". The other side of the medallion will be the first occupancy of the historic house by Washington the year of Gen. Lafayette's visit there and the present occasion when the old town is honored by the presence of Lafayette's illustrious compatriot and equally illustrious exemplar of the cause of democracy, liberty and independence. The edge will be milled.

The obverse of the medallion will bear the following inscription:

JOSEPH LACOUR JOFFRE

Marshal of France

by the

Citizens and Schoolchildren

City of Newburgh, N. Y.

May 11, 1917

The medallion will be contained in a handsome leather case so arranged that the velvet, left in which it is inserted will be hinged so that both sides can be read without removing it. On the front of the case will be a gold plate bearing the American and French flags beautifully enameled in colors and underneath the name of the recipient.

Mayor Wilson has declared a general holiday in honor of the visit of the French War Commission and elaborate decorations will be spread throughout the town. The French Commission will arrive about 11:40 a. m. and school children and citizens will take part in a program of exercises on the grounds at Washington Headquarters.

Orders have been received for Company M Tenth regiment of this city to act as a part of the escort of honor for Marshal Joffre on Friday.

CENSUS DATA TURNED OVER

Major Chandler's Appointees Tender Resignation to Mr. Filling

Following the resignation of Major George Chandler as military census director, Abram Freeman, Edwin C. Osterhout and Jacob Truiper have tendered their resignations as members of that committee and turned over the very complete data which they have prepared to Philip Filling, the newly appointed census director. In Mr. Filling's charge are all the plans prepared by the committee which have been in constant readiness to act upon instructions from the adjutant general's office at Albany. The instructions have been held up until Congress passes the conscription bill and the federal enrollment for military service is out of the way.

EGG PRODUCTION DEPENDS MUCH ON FEED

PRIZE WINNING WHITE WYANDOTTES

Systematic feeding is just as necessary in the poultry yard as it is in the steer pen or hog lot. G. W. Harvey of the Missouri college of agriculture gives the following hints which may help relieve the egg shortage.

Grain for chickens should be clean and free from mold. Moldy grain will often cause death or result in any one of the several diseases common to the digestive tract. Birds affected by these weak and inactive and often manifest an intense thirst.

There is always danger of under-feeding. The birds should go on the roots at night with crops well filled. Only a little grain need be scattered in the straw litter each morning to induce exercise during the day. The total amount of grain to be supplied daily will depend largely upon the soil fertility of the dry mash which is fed as an adjunct to the grain ration and also the housing facilities. If the dry mash is not relished or if none is fed at all a greater amount of grain is required to satisfy the appetite of the birds and at the same time they cannot utilize the feed efficiently for production purposes. When insufficient protection is given especially during the winter months by undue exposure of houses or by allowing daylight more grain is required to keep up the body heat.

It is questionable whether chickens may be overfed. An improper balance however between mash and grain will often result in an excessive deposition of fat so much so that the function of the reproductive organs is interfered with and the bird does not lay. It is believed that laying hens should eat half as much mash as they do grain but experience based on year round feeding shows that the dry mash consumption is only about one third of the total ration. A wet mash consisting of bran and sour milk may be fed two or three times weekly during the late summer and during the winter as an appetizer and in this way the total amount of mash eaten may be increased.

The dry mash fed in the University of Missouri pens consists of equal parts by weight of grain shorts, corn meal and meat scrap. If sour milk is given the meat is not necessary. This mash admits easy mixing is bulky and has a sufficient protein content of an animal source to make it practical for production. This mash may be fed in a self-feeding hopper to which the birds have free access. If fed in this manner they will to a large degree gauge their own ration, and at the same time considerable less labor is required than if the mash is thrown into troughs each morning.

Methods Employed at Nebraska University Farm.

Grain Thrown Into Deep Litter in Morning to Keep Fowls Busy. Scratching—Electric Lights Found to Be Useful.

The following methods and feeds are used at the Nebraska university farm at Lincoln in connection with the poultry department.

During the winter months the birds receive as their first feed in the morning a scratch feed such as follows: Two pounds of cracked corn, two pounds of white wheat, one pound of barley, and in such amounts as will keep the birds hungry and working for food throughout the morning.

About ten o'clock a feed of sprouted oats is given. Call the mangle and green alfalfa are sometimes used in addition to the green feed in small quantities to vary the diet.

At noon a very light feed of wet mash is given. It is made from the following mixture and mixed with skim milk: 2 pounds of corn meal, two pounds of bran, two pounds of white middlin, two pounds of ground oats, two pounds of wheat, two pounds of corn, and in such amounts as will keep the birds hungry and working for food throughout the morning.

About four o'clock in the afternoon a liberal feeding of grain is given. See list of feeds in the morning. The birds all have access to the scratch feed.

The poultry house is equipped with electric light which are turned on at five o'clock in the morning and run at four o'clock in the afternoon.

To stamp out the habit get rid of the hen that is causing the trouble, supply the flock with plenty of animal matter such as meat and green cut bone and the birds exercise after all the food they get.

As a treatment apply an ointment of some kerosene—guanine or aloes mixed with lard will do the work. A solution made by boiling tobacco in water will be found satisfactory. The feather eating bird will quit after one or two of these better doses.

A great deal of stress has been laid on succulent green feeds as an inducement to part of an egg ration but the experience in the North American Contest seems to favor the idea of a green feed is furnished except that which grows in the yards during the summer and the winter having been found very satisfactory. In a supplementary test the poorest laying pen consumed the most green feed and the highest laying pen the least. There is no doubt that a green feed is good for the flocks.

The question is whether it is essential to heavy egg production in winter and the experiments tend to prove that it is not. The reason being that consume a great deal of bulk, green feed does not lay as well as those that eat more concentrated feed is easily seen. Because of its bulk the green feed fills up and sates the bird but does not contain the high percentage of nutrients that dry feeds do. In order to become high power later hens must have high power feed so unless the bulk green feed is supplemented by highly concentrated feeds having high caloric value, the green feed will not do much good.

TARIFF INCREASE FOR WAR REVENUE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, May 9.—Final decision of the house ways and means committee to include a ten per cent tariff increase in the war revenue bill made it possible to report today a measure calculated to raise during the coming year the full $1,800,000,000 asked by Secretary McAdoo.

The last minute action of the house committee does away with the free list of the Underwood tariff law. Besides including a horizontal increase of ten per cent on all existing tariff rates, the bill places an import tax of ten per cent on all articles now admitted free. All other levies will be raised by internal taxes. It is estimated that the changed tariff rates will bring in $240,000,000.

Chairman Kitchin plans to bring the bill up for consideration tomorrow. General debate of the measure will continue at least through his week so that the bill will not pass the lower house before next week. The measure has been brought out of committee only after prolonged controversy and discussion. So wide have been the breaches that the prediction has been freely made that the bill is due to be rewritten altogether by the senate. No hearings were held by the house. Already the senate finance committee has announced that it will begin hearings on the measure Friday. The principal split in committee was over excess profits. After having considered rates all the way from 8 to 20 per cent, sixteen per cent finally was agreed upon. The income tax is made retroactive for the calendar year 1916. In addition to the income tax already levied and paid on incomes the committee decided upon an additional levy of 33 1/3 per cent. This retroactive tax is payable next September and embraces all taxable incomes for 1916.

The exemptions are materially lowered for the levy of income taxes. The exemption for unmarried taxpayers is lowered from $2,000 to $1,000 while the exemption for married persons is reduced from $4,000 to $2,000. The super-taxes on $4,000, ranging from 1 per cent to 33 per cent on net incomes exceeding $500,000.

New taxes on inheritances are levied all the way from one half to one per cent on net estates not in excess of $50,000 to 15 per cent on inheritances exceeding $15,000,000. The postal rates for letters is increased from two to three cents while the rate for postcards is doubled. Postal rates on newspapers and other second class mail matter hereafter will be levied through a zone system. The rates will range from two cents to six cents per pound according to the zone.

The committee after many revisions determined upon a whiskey tax of 15 per cent on the barrel, with an increase from present rates of $1.10 and $1.50 respectively. Five per cent taxes are levied against local telephone calls, transportation of oil by pipe line, electric power furnished for heating or domestic purposes, yachts, pleasure boats, automobiles, sporting goods, motor cycles, jewelry, musical instruments, proprietary medicines and cosmetics.

Railroad tickets and express shipments are each assessed ten per cent. The tobacco tax is greatly increased. A graduated tax on cigars ranging from 50 cents to $10 a hundred. Cigarettes either foreign or domestic will be taxed $1.25 a hundred if weighing less than three pounds to the thousand and $3.50 if more than three pounds. Besides a ten per cent tax on all amusements, there is a special levy of half a cent to a cent on each foot of moving picture film. The stamp taxes of the Spanish war are revived and increased.

IN NEED OF YARN AND OF KNITTERS

Our Men and Women Can Help Provide Warm Clothing for Crews of Submarines, Men With Money and Women With Needles.

Editor of The Freeman:
Dear Sir—May we beg a little space in your paper in order to make an appeal to the men of Kingston as well as to the women, for money and knitters? The New York and Washington newspapers have several times published the story of the great need of warm clothing among the men of the navy, especially of the crews of the submarines. So far, the government has not provided any special uniform for the submarine men and they are actually suffering. The Comforts Committee of the Navy League in Washington is trying to fill this need and we women of Kingston are offering a portion. While we are much pleased with the work already done, we need many more volunteers among the women who will pay for the yarn that they knit. But there are also many women who are willing to knit, who cannot afford to pay for the yarn. So we are making this appeal to the men for money. We will accept any sum, no matter how large nor how small. One of the meetings in Washington League rooms is: "Women will knit up all the yarn that you men will pay for." The Kingston women will do likewise. The need is great.

GIVE LAURELS TO LAWSUIT VICTORS

Mr. Brincker Puts Riffon Corporation Counsel Crown From Him and Same is Restored on Mayor Canfield Who May Oppose His Own Briefs.

The remarkable changes in government in Europe caused by the war and revolutions there had their counterpart in the government of the village of Riffon Tuesday night when Mayor Palmer Canfield, Jr., of this city was—or was not, according to future legal interpretation—elected counsel for the village.

At the meeting held last Saturday night, which has been already described in The Freeman, Alfred D. Van Buren, who had represented the village for several years and in the Carter law suit, in which a $2,000 verdict was rendered against it, announced that if he was no longer desired by the village board of trustees as counsel, he would resign, but that he would continue to appear for the village inasmuch as the suit brought against the village by Dr. William Kumble was on the calendar of the term of court which began Monday.

Mr. Brincker in Chair.

Corporation Counsel William D. Brincker, who appeared for Village Trustees Richard Terpening and George W. Fowler, acted as chairman in putting a motion to continue Mr. Van Buren, which was lost by a vote of the two trustees present, and lost by a vote of the eight residents of Riffon present. Mr. Van Buren announced his resignation as village attorney but stated he would continue to act in order to protect the interests of the village in the Kumble case during the May term of court, and also to represent the village in the Carter case until he had submitted to Judge Hasbrouck an additional brief on the motion to set aside the verdict in the Carter case, in the trial of which it will be recalled, City Judge William D. Brincker, Jr., had been attorney for Miss Carter, with Mayor Canfield of counsel on the argument for a non-suit.

Mayor Canfield and Mr. Van Buren were present at Tuesday night's meeting, which was attended by about twenty-five residents of Riffon. Mr. Fowler, who has removed to Connecticut, where he is employed in a munition factory, was present, having come from his work to attend the meeting. President Davidson presided but declined to recognize Mr. Fowler as a trustee on account of his removal. It is claimed by the Terpening-Fowler faction that Mr. Fowler's residence in Connecticut is temporary and that he is still qualified to act as a trustee of the village.

On motion that Miss Annie Devine be elected village clerk in place of Mrs. Davidson, the wife of the village president, Messrs. Terpening and Fowler voted in favor of the motion and President Davidson voted against it. President Davidson declined to recognize Mr. Fowler as a trustee on account of his removal from Riffon and declared the motion lost. A demand was made on Mrs. Davidson to turn over the records to Miss Devine.

Mayor is Enthusiastic.

On motion to employ Mayor Canfield as counsel, Mr. Van Buren made a speech eulogizing the mayor for his ability and other qualities which made him regard him highly personally. Mr. Van Buren referred to the recent Carter case, and said that it seemed improper for the trustees to elect as counsel, while the Carter case was still pending before Judge Hasbrouck, the attorney who had made the argument against the village's motion for a non-suit. The vote to employ Mayor Canfield was the same as that to employ Miss Devine as clerk.

Mayor Canfield, in accepting election, said it was his desire to smooth out all complications and to place the village board on an efficient basis.

Afterwards speeches were made by a number of those present, most of the speakers criticizing President Davidson's administration, and claiming that $700 had been expended on the order of the president without audit by the board of trustees.

As the new village counsel, residents of Riffon expect that Mayor Canfield will prosecute vigorously the briefs to be filed on the motion to set aside the verdict in the Carter case.

Washington, May 9.—William L. Saunders, head of the Naval Consulting Board, announces that a number of those present, most of the speakers criticizing President Davidson's administration, and claiming that $700 had been expended on the order of the president without audit by the board of trustees.

ENVOYS HONORED IN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, May 9.—Philadelphia, the birthplace of American independence, greeted Marshal Joseph Joffre, Rene Viviani and the French war mission with open arms today. Thousands were packed about Broad Street Station and lined the streets when the visitors reached here shortly after 9 o'clock for a few hours stay.

Mayor Smith, on behalf of the city presented the hero of the Marne with a gold-enriched marshal's baton, cut from the wood of a battle of historical independence Hall within an hour after his arrival.

From the station the visitors were taken to the famous "Grange of Independence," where the mayor welcomed them. There stood in the eyes of the aged soldier as he accepted the gift and responded:

"In this hall of independence from whence the declaration of liberty and freedom was first proclaimed, I give you the greeting of the French army. The soldiers of France will be gratified when I show them your precious gift. They already are overjoyed at being united in a common cause with the soldiers of America."

M. Viviani expressed his thanks to the city for the welcome.

"It has never been the good fortune of Frenchmen to perform a more pleasant mission than this one to America," he said. "It is an honor to be received in this temple of independence, where the doctrine of human rights and liberty was first proclaimed to all the world."

Before leaving Independence Hall, Marshal Joffre and M. Viviani kissed the historical Liberty bell, which first pealed forth to the world the challenge of democracy. The marshals were much interested in all the relics of the Revolution.

Educational institutions were thrown wide open to honor the visitors. Three thousand girls were lined up to welcome them in Seventeenth Street and before the William Penn Mansion, 10,000 school tots shouted their greetings. Girard College gave them an impromptu reception and the University of Pennsylvania conferred the degree of Doctor of Laws on M. Viviani. A military review and public reception was held on Franklin Field.

From the reception the envoys were conducted to the Bellevue-Stratford, where a luncheon was given in their honor by Mayor Smith.

ULSTER COUNTY'S C. E. CONVENTION

Wallkill Gathering Is 25th Annual and Promises to Be Most Interesting—Many Speakers on Program for May 21-22.

The twenty-fifth annual convention of the Ulster County Christian Endeavor Union which is to be held at Wallkill May 21-22, promises to be the most interesting and inspiring one ever held. The theme will be, "Preparedness." The convention will be opened at four o'clock on Monday afternoon by the county president, the Rev. George Hamilton Scofield, Ph. D., of Highland. The Rev. R. P. Ingersoll of Saugerties, an efficient leader, will conduct the music of the convention. Mrs. James I. Brydie of New York will have charge of the junior work. One of the unique features of the Monday evening session will be a "C. E. Quilting Party" conducted by Dr. E. K. Lee of Kingston, in which twenty young ladies will participate. The main address will be given by the Rev. Dr. F. G. Coffin of Albany, the president of the state union.

A patriotic preparedness parade in which various organizations of Wallkill are to co-operate will be a stirring opening to the second day of the convention. The line of march will form at 8 a. m. The delegates will convene again at the Reformed Church at nine o'clock for the morning session. A dollar pic will be baked by the Rev. A. S. Cole. Guest-lunes from the Sunrise Kingdom will be brought by the Rev. L. R. Shaefer. The annual report will be given by District Secretary Luther Wilkow. A school of methods will be conducted by the Rev. Herbert Jones.

An open air service will be held after a visit to the commissary department. At the afternoon session hot shots at the enemy will be aimed by W. W. Brady, Jr. The experts will be awarded their diplomas. Field Secretary Harold A. Walte will close the convention with an address and conference.

The Ulster County Union is composed of more than two thousand members in over forty societies. Delegates desiring entertainment are requested to send their names to Miss Miss Williams, Wallkill, N. Y.

Crew of Sebastian Saved.

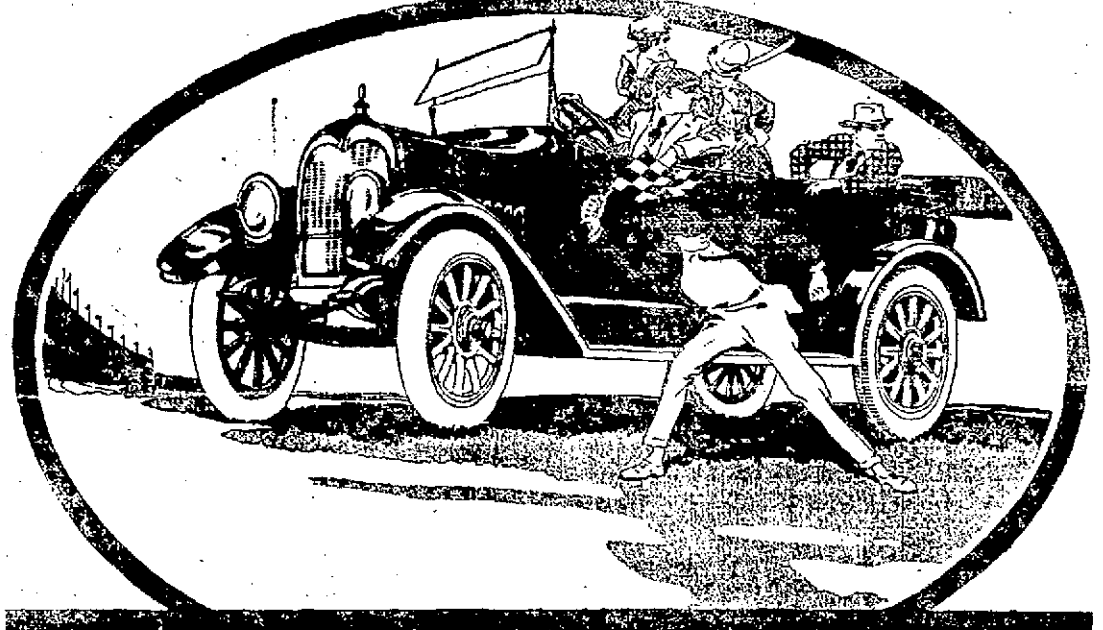

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Newport, R. I., May 9.—A wireless despatch received at the naval station reported that the crew of the British steamship Sebastian, which was reported on fire off Nantuxet Shoals last night, has been saved by the U. S. S. Sacramento. Unofficial advice is that the honor was lost.

Dangerous.

Friend—"So you allowed that conductor on one of your own cars to jostle and talk back to you all the people? Why didn't you tell him who you were? That would have settled him." President of Tractor Company—"Yes; and it would have settled me. He might have told the other passengers."—Puck.

The Real Greatness of the Maxwell Is in Its Perfected Mechanism

Mechanical perfection has made the Maxwell endurance champion of the world—the most economical car to run—a source of complete satisfaction to 200,000 Maxwell Owners.

Let's consider the Maxwell first as a piece of machinery, —for that's what a real automobile is—a machine. Fancy upholstery, enamel, a highly polished instrument board are excellent things, —but they don't make a great motor car. Motor-car merit depends, first, last and always, on mechanical construction. —on the parts that are hidden from your view. The Maxwell has grace of form and line—travels easily—is roomy and comfortable, —a novice knows that—it's obvious. But, let us pick the car to pieces and see what you actually get for your money.

The Sturdy, Masterful Chassis

In the first place, there is one—and only one—Maxwell chassis, —and that chassis not an experiment, —not the whim of some designer who craves a reputation to be different or original. Nobody is permitted to tinker with that one Maxwell model, —no smart ideas are allowed to swerve it from its course of development, refinement, perfection along the known, proved, time-tried principles of automobile construction.

The Maxwell Engine is the Embodiment of Efficiency and Power

The Maxwell engine is the concrete manifestation of efficiency and power brought up to an almost unbelievable point of perfection. It has much of the velvety smoothness characteristic of the motors in high-priced cars, —plus power, economy, reliability and simplicity.

LEGEND OF SALT RIVER.

The Stream Is a Really Historic One Flowing in Kentucky.

The people of the United States have always been prone and quick to catch a happy or unhappy remark or phrase in politics and to make the most of it.

Once, a long time ago, a defeated office seeker in order to "get himself together" left home as soon as he became aware of the result at the polls. A friend, inquiring for him a little later, was informed by a member of his family that he had gone up Salt river.

Salt river was and is a modest little stream that rises in the hill country of Kentucky and after flowing through a more or less picturesque district for about a score of miles empties into the Ohio. It was in those days a good fishing creek and the kind of stream a jaded and disappointed politician might naturally fancy. There was not a thing wrong about his excursion. Yet his political enemies got hold of the remark that he had "gone up Salt river" and used it to imply that this meant the end of his public career.

The saying spread from Kentucky into other states, and for more than half a century it has been used to express the idea that a politician has been "driven to the woods" for good. "He's gone up Salt river" has come to mean, in fact, that a politician has "been put out of business," has been so badly beaten that he cannot "come back" and "has seen his salt."—Christian Science Monitor.

All in the Direct.

A New Zealand man vouches for the truth of the following story: Dick Seddon was of Lancashire origin, and when he died the Lancastrian society in New Zealand sent a wreath with the following inscription: "I have gone whom." The journalist who reported the funeral evidently did not come from Lancashire and consequently was somewhat puzzled by the wording and, after thinking hard, concluding that some one had blundered. His report read: "The Lancastrian society sent a beautiful wreath bearing the inscription: 'I have gone. Who am I?'"

About 12 per cent of the volume of the ordinary tree is bark, and little use has heretofore been made of bark except as a source of tanning extract. The recent investigations resulted in the development of a process by which spent tannin can be profitably used in the manufacture of asphalt shingles, thereby materially increasing the value of this bark.
